Sounds like n00bstories, right?

Well it isn't!

n00bstories has it's own website, it's own forum it's own irc chat, it's own servers.

Renegadeforums does not. They are just run by the same person. They are separate.

Listen, I've been punished enough. You obviously don't know my side of the story. The Black-cell admins completely destroyed my community I worked my ass off to build. If I launch any of my old servers, they'll get knocked offline. WD cost me $75 with DS too. A Servermatrix technician spotted it and they promptly forced me to do an OS reinstall because it's an obvious IRC client. I'm just trying to get on with my life. I don't see why you can't drop it and do the same.

I was going to release it about 30 minutes before it happened. SK also knew and was happy about it. I got the worse on both ends, Crimson's lies were exposed and I was banned from n00bstories. I release Dragonade to get praise from peers at n00bstories and I'm banned from Black-cell.

So you're telling us that you're a completely changed man, from only a few days ago? Okay, you leaked DA/DS a couple of weeks ago... It didn't happen months ago like the hub incident. Besides, if you really expect us to believe that you've changed so dramatically since the last time you lied, it's not going to happen. You lied to get DA/DS in the first place, lied about leaving renegade for another game, changed your name twice to evade a (supposed) ban, as well as created stories to generate sympathy (which I doubt are true). Perhaps we wouldn't raise it if it hadn't happened in the first place. Besides, human beings are able to remember things for a reason... We can remember that you have tricked and backstabbed people in the past, and as such, we can judge you by that. Give me one good reason to forget the past and forgive you. So I can be decieved again? I think not. Also, you obviously want

That's not making fun of death. That's threatening to kill you, which was an outburst due to the fact that you felt it necessary to accuse me of cheating, to which you later knew you were wrong about.

Especially considering the entire reason you thought I was cheating was that you said "you never said who you were," even though I announced "okay this is Aircraftkiller using a different name, I'm trying to avoid being DDoSed offline by Ty"

:rolleyes:

If you were there, I wouldn't have killed you... But I would have punched you in the face, several times.

Why do you need someone else to blame for your own actions? You know you were in the wrong to make fun of his illness, regardless of what he did before.

It just shows me that you're a manipulative sack of shit. Not only do you lie to people (hey, like the time you played friends with Taximes and I just to get things from us! Sound familiar, asshole?) like you accuse xptek of doing, but you also play with emotions and decieve them maliciously.

Yes, if I did meet you in real life, I would fuck you up bad for what you've done to people before. There's a line I draw between "your mod sucks and I want to destroy it" and "I'm going to play with people's feelings and see how much fun it is to play witch doctor with their lives."

Now you're making shit up too? Figures, coming from someone who has also leaked software. I never deceived Taximes...We actually had some good times playing Renegade and his various other creations for it. And as for you...The most I got out of you was how to properly save the sky texture in the game. I never wanted anything from you, don't flatter yourself. If I was able to "play doctor" with your life by getting you to reveal that valuable piece of information, then you really have some serious issues. Perhaps you're a bit too attached to this place and this game, especially if you would resort to violence over my aforementioned actions which are hardly worthy of a slap on the wrist. Time for me to sit back and laugh as you post even more baseless lies just as you have in the past. Have fun, and be more creative next time.
