I think Macromedia really needs to get off their ass and recompile their Flash/Shockwave players for the 64-bit versions of Linux. Even though I do not have or use Linux, I plan to in the future, and I plan to get the 64-bit version when I completely redo my computer in late 2006. If you agree, I suggest you sign this petition. My friend started this petition, so I'm trying to help him get a lot of signatures.

I suggest you use both Linux and Windows when you redo your computer, because using only Linux right now isn't the right thing to do.

That's what I meant. Sorry I didn't make that part clearer.
