hi all,
finally i found the solution,
to the rengaurd hangs(blankscreen) problem.
I use a speedtouch modem,
and i did the following.
(So only for speedtouch users)
open your browser and type: ,

http://YOUR-GATEWAY

(NOTE:dont know your gateway,run Command-prompt and type "ipconfig") after typing http://YOUR-GATEWAY, u should be in your speedtouch control panel, if not , Then try http://your-username or your NetWork-IP in the menu on the left select Speedtouch, then Configuration also at the left menu,

then click configure in the top right corner.

next find the option "Web Browsing Interception:"
disable this, and press apply FINISHED....

worked for me!

I hope this helps others too,
i had to share it :)
and sorry for my crappy punctuation but im tired :p well Goodluck

peace
DKC

Well GREAT news for us Speedtouch users. This FIX works!

I knew it had to be an error with our dumb modem/router combos. This is something dumb yet simple.

but i just dont get what this "feature" (Web Browsing Interception) is supposed to do and why its only affecting renguard?!?

is there a help/info text in the configuration-gui -where you can set this option on or off- about what this option exactly does?

Hi pal,
hope this helps.
oh and if none of the options works from the first post, then try 192.168.1.254 or 192.168.1.1 .

and "Web Browsing Interception" is still a mystery, its not in the manual or help guide!
it seems to be related to parental contol, but as 0x90 said "it's only affecting renguard"
very strange indeed :huh:

peace

This is all the help section has to say about it:

Quote:Enable/disable web browsing interception or set it to automatic. If you disable web browsing interception or set it to automatic you will not be able to use Parental Control.

Quote:Web Browsing Interception" is an option that inform you whenever the link is down. So if you try to open any url while the link is down, a web page will be displayed telling you that the DSL line is down.
Google is your friend.

Right...I know what that is.

I have noticed that ever since living here with this new modem I get these pages that are from the router telling me the page is down, blah blah blah. Normally you just get the "The page cannot be displayed error" if you are using IE.

So this simple function screws up RG...wow
