Lol piracy, Dont be pirates unless you cant find the software where you live, just think what if you pirated renegade back then? You wouldnt be able to play it online then.

There's a difference between pirating something that costs $20 and $3495. That difference is approximately... $3475. Big difference. There is no way I could ever afford that. Ever.

NB - I do not condone software piracy. Maybe I'll write an open source 3D modelling program at some point. Then they'll all be screwed!

So I guess we are just pro-piracy on these boards now? Or do we just not have moderators that can do their job?

I think it's a little bit of both.
