Matix owned Ulti-Serv AND Stealth-Servers before and they're both affiliated together here.

Also, I got Hawk to look on this. He said he knows how Matix works and that site looked exactly the same as before - pricing and all.

/me thinks it r a wee bit obvious?

I agree with Stitch.. this is defenately Matix/Rhynix's. He ran Ulti-Serv until he got shut down for DDoSing people from his box.

That is the exact same template he used to use, and the IP you just gave us..
<http://69.77.184.123/> .. the world of warcraft folder on it gave it away that it is matix..he ran that exact thing under the name of stealth-server.

Edit: This made me laugh.. on the Ulti-Serv about us page, it has Toronto - Head Office 155 Commerce Valley Drive, E. Thornhill, Ontario L3T 7T2 as their address. Funny, as ulti-serv's site is hosted on 1and1, yet that address is the address of a hosting provider itself, www.onx.com, who owns the IP you provided, troop

Seems like he just took the address off of onx.com and put it on his own site to make it seem more official.

No no, fix my mistakes.

If I go drive by 155 commerce valley drive in Thornhill tomorrow..as I live close to there, what will I find? Not Ulti-Serv I imagine.

Edit: Took a visit to your support forums..

Stealth-Servers? That is undeniably matix's.

Also, I found one of my mistakes. The domain was purchased through 1and1 but hosted on 110mb.com, a free hosting provider. Please, continue correcting me

So obvious... And, the fact that they need a "parent" company shows that something is up. If that's the case, they don't own the box, meaning more than one company has access to your files - hence the low price.

I'd rather pay the extra 50c per slot for better security.

Holy fuck you guys are ignorant and ultimately, retarded.

1st off, I, myself (Matix) have nothing to do with Ulti-Serv or Stealth-Servers anymore. Trooprm02 came up to me one day asking for access to the domains because I wasn't using them, so I lent him the domain names. I lent him Stealth-Servers.com, .info, and .org, as well as Ulti-Serv.NET. After a week or so, Hawk (I have IP logs from godaddy support) went on my account and deleted these 4 domain names.

Afterwards, troop went up to me and told me they have been deleted, I called up godaddy, and they said they can't give it back to me, but refunded me for the ammount of time that was left on the domains, gave me ip logs of who deleted them at what time, etc. Trooprm then bought off Ulti-Serv.com (not .net) and asked me if I can install him a WoW server, I did so, it didn't work out, he got someone else to do it. He also asked me for my old hosting template which I rightly so gave to him. You can also see that trooprm runs everything as the forums are linked to his free forums and you can see that the paypal used on the hosting site is HIS account. -- That is why HE is using free web hosting to host his websites. If I had owned the websites, they would be hosted on a linux box properly with cpanel.

You guys can believe whatever the fuck you want to, the reason for my absence of today's animosity is because I was fucking tired of cleaning up after Hawk's fucking wrong doing, like for example, the $200 that mvrtech donated went into Hawk's fucking monitor he bought under my paypal, and loads of other people's money being used on Hawk's own base.

You guys are fucking ridiculous if you think I have done anything with Renegade or hosting as a matter of fact on the internet for a couple of months now. Grow the fuck up and learn to fucking move on.

P.S. - Hawk, Kyle sent me the fake screen shots you produced and sent to fl00d3d saying I e-mail bombed people, sweet fakes.

TBH everytime I see a 15 year old kid claim he is CEO of a "hosting company" I LOL. All it takes to "own a hosting company" is to throw up a web page and resell services, just like 10,000 other people are doing. I always advise people to not bother with these fly-by-night "hosting companies" and deal directly with professional companies like theplanet.com, etc.

200 dollars is chump money for Tyler/Hawk. Even if he did take $200, it was probably just to take the money from you for what you did before lol. His father is rich. He can get whatever amount he wants off his father. You yourself should know that seeing as you two are "bee eff effs" on renegade.

And what loads of other people's money? You only had one donator, mvrtech. He was the only stupid one to get hosting from you instead of just going to places like AOHost or renting his own dedi.

As for the whole e-mail bomb thing, I don't know the truth to that. All I know is Fl00d3d was the one accusing Hawk of doing it. Hawk can't even ddos a phone, let alone email bombing lol.

However, this topic is very entertaining.

I'm default if you haven't noticed.

I thought you would have learned from the last time but yet here you are with more garbage of yours going around still.

You stated Stewie ripped a bot? Can you prove this? From what I've seen him and a few friends have been coding quite a few bots.

The question should really be is why did you rip such a crappy ddos bot? I mean if they can easily be tracked back to you that quick then damn.

If troop bought them domains off of you did you give him the same styles/templates with it? I mean if someone was going to get something from you I would think they would want to get rid of the garbage template/style.

And then I have all proof saying that I sent PMs telling you Lets AOW-
You pick the fucking map then retard,
Pick the fucking side-

I dont care.
I have you on my msn, how about you add mine.
steven_r_parker@live.ca

Now whats your fucking excuse?

<http://www.ulti-serv.com>
your doing illegal things man i would recommend NOBODY to rent over there imagine if anyone rents a wow server and you rent a 60 player serv for renegade and the wow server gets caught,
u lose 60usd
