A few nice reminders on the arty so your techs won't go deaf.

I realized the sign on top would be out of sight for anyone not in the arty, but sometimes techs ride in the cab to the field... Really though I couldn't put the sign anywhere else, if it went on the side it would have mirrored backwards on the other (and people always complain about that)... so I put the triangle sign on the side since it is the same when mirrored.

I'm not a big fan of the colour but I love the signs. Good job.

I love this skin because this is original and completely new. It's like a construction vehicle.
