Do fanmade maps deserve their own forum section, do you think? Seems a significant subsection of modding.

Actually, I think the mod release forum should be a subsection of this forum as well.

Probably take the mapping threads from the last month via a modrepot button and start the rest overnew if such a section would be added.

It could organise the mapping projects better.

Wouldn't necessarily have to move the old ones, or at least, not all the old ones. Just the ones on the last few pages, maybe, and any others the mapmaker feels like bumping.

This.

Or at the very least tags if that is even possible on this forum software
