Far be it for me to question Jelly policy, but with the release of 4.0 RC1 the "extremely advantage" skins that have been classified as cheats are now automatically blacklisted anyways. There was always too much freedom in terms of what "skinners" "could" do. Skins that are "bright pink" for sbhs for instance was always considered "advantage skins". In a way, they are classed as cheats too and I can only assume that these "skinners" aren't banned at Jelly?

If you recall correctly, di3hardNL created "glowing c4" which is what g1d based his creations off. I assume he's not banned as well?

I'm not defending what he created, as they have no place in renegade at all, but I just think that banning someone permanently for merely creating extremely advantage models/skins is a little too extreme. He's been a full moderator at RC for a while - do you really think they'd keep him around if he wasn't of good character? 4.0 has given a lot of players, including myself a second chance.

I know that what he says on here can make him look like a prat, but that attitude is only confined to here as he's a different person completely in RC, as they wouldn't accept the same level of bullshit.

Just my thoughts.

Usally in commwars you're suppose to act professional but Jelly "Regulars" seem to be quite opposite so I can only image what they do in public games. Liquid obviously you act like a bad ass on renforums, I surly hope you don't act the same in Jelly seeing you're the head admin there and try to act more professional and not talk shit every chance you get, and also keep people like Iran on a leash.

A bunch of tools in jelly running around banning everyone those bright pink sbh skins are actually allowed at jelly and have been so for millenia Croatoan do you know why? because you can't see an sbh across City Flying with a bright pink stealth_effect.dds, but you bet your ass you can see it with an emitter! those emitters G1D is banned for making do not "make it easier to see sbh" as the brightly colored stealth_effect.dds skins too, but rather let you see SBH AT ALL TIMES NO MATTER HOW FAR THEY ARE EVEN WHEN THEY ARE CLOAKED (for all intents and purposes it's just like RGH's ESP). THAT IS CHEATING.

now granted, we have probably allowed worse offenders in the past back into the server, but if somebody brought up allowing G1D back in (which they have not), I imagine we'd keep him banned based on his stupidity alone.

I would certainly now want a driveling idiot like him playing at any server that I'm apart of (even without insulting anybody else, if you tell me RC must have had a reason to make G1D a full mod all I will say is shaitan is the "head admin") that being said, the HUD looks kinda cool - I find it rather interesting these days since you can't do all that much with HUDs in general. the left side (radar) does have pieces that look awful lot like Scrin's old HUDs though.

To those of you who think the radar looks funny, it's because it wasn't designed to be like that. I made the original of this HUD using CNC3 textures and released it as the "CNC3 GDI styled HUD"

It looks huge in this screenshot because the screen resolution was 800x600, my Renegade Config. tool won't load.

I don't have a grudge against you, it's a total loss of respect, stemming from an MSN conversation where you were asking me if I knew where to get that old cheat HUD that lights up if there's an enemy behind a wall among other cheats.

I caught you SBH revealing on St0rm's server, had you post that screenshot, and you had turned your HUD off for the shot.

You then decided to be a jerk on my forum, when all I did was point some things out, so now I've come here.

Quote:tbh you copied the D6 hud and just changed a couple of textures around yourself... so you can't talk.

I didn't copy the D6 HUD, I used the INI as a base. The textures I re-used were simply a texture mapping shortcut, as the grey boxes on D6's HUD texture are already set in the INI, requiring less math to set the HUD up. The old settings were only close though, not perfect, so many of those were changed after I got the textures modded/saved as needed. The only visible textures left over from D6's HUD were the BB labels, health icon, the clock icon, and the currency icon.

My version of this HUD has many hours of my perfectionist ass making sure the whole HUD was the way I wanted it.

lol hud wtf are you talking about? get your shit straight everything to you seems to be a hud..

How did you catch me on st0rm if I posted a clean screenshot and no you can't turn w3d's off and I didn't turn my hud off why would I turn my hud off??

Your forums umm their crysis's forums?

Exactly the ini isn't your's so don't bitch and moan that you made it from scratch, you used d6's ini with simple minor edits, and I did the same so please don't cry. Your hud probably took a hour if that same as mine so don't get mad and claiming I am using your textures is bullshit cause they are C&C 3 textures released not to long ago so anyone can download them and make the same exact hud.

In case you forgot, Crysis handed the site over to me.. Permanently...

You can turn a HUD that has SBH revealing qualities off. (They exist, I've seen them) Besides, the fact that you turned your HUD off for the screenshot is proof that you had something to hide. You did in fact turn the HUD off in the shot, it was the entire reason you were BANNED from St0rm. I'd find the pic on St0rm's forums to prove it if the Renegade section was still there.

I NEVER ONCE said I wrote that INI from scratch, though, I did change nearly every single setting in the INI, and I also stated in the original release, which has been lost, that, the D6 INI was the base INI.

You think HUDs are all I can think about? Maybe HUDs are the biggest thing in renegade that I made that I give two ****s or a f*** about.

Yet you still allow such huds/skins on your forums.

There's a reason why renegadeskins.net doesn't get any support anymore.

I only allow BB HUDs. Any other HUDs that do more than they should that I'm made aware of will be reviewed for removal or editing. people have to tell me that they're there because I'm not going through the whole forum just to find the random few unsavory skins that still happen to be there, likely with broken links because posters didn't follow the uploading rules that Crysis made and never enforced.

People don't realize that just because it used to be run by Crysis, doesn't mean that his methods are still in use. Just because I own the site now doesn't mean I'm aware of every skin that's been posted, and I actually want to make the users happy where Crysis used the site as a method for collecting skins without having to go find them.

It's not an emitter, it's a texture near the reticle that appears when you target an SBH. Similar to the hit indicator introduced with Raptor's HUD.

I wasn't even the one that placed the ban. The ban list was later cleared, leading to your ability to rejoin.

I got removed from the mod list because I wasn't active enough ingame for them.

Zunnie for president! I do agree with this. People can change. Everyone acts like a dick on renforums its so funny.

G1D and I have had our disputes (big time). I played with him in a lobby war for rencorner 2 weeks ago and we got along fine and actually worked as a team probably better than anyone else in that match especially on city. Hes a pretty chill guy. Fourms are very misleading than how people actually are on TS.

I honestly don't care about anyones skins or huds cause everyone uses them or had used them. I am sure just about everyone has used a cheat in the past too.

Gumby straight up attacked you because of what you and Trist was talking about in the marathon server earlier in the day and tbh, I don't blame him at all. You've both received permanent mutes and neither of you are allowed to play in any of RC's events for the foreseeable future. We have Irish members and alot of us feel uncomfortable that your willing to joke around like this, especially with whats going on over there. You both need to fucking grow up.

I was wondering why he said something about me playing in that training commwar or whatever, even though I behaved like i always do in private games.

That comment was a pretty bad joke, was roi related btw, (not belfast or where ever shits kicking off) but I kinda see why he got angry.

Woulda been nice if he told me to tone it down or to even stfu, but iirc he didnt even say anything, similiar to the area54 v ns games, where they said nothing in the game, then pmed crimson afterwards complaining

lol
