"hater", fredcow? like when you said that people who aren't the right religion should be killed and then tortured in the afterlife?

btw do you still think the nazis' only crime was wiping out the Jewish people? (it's a rather strange thing to say and a rather strange way to say it, ljbh)

Did I even attempt to deny being a "hater"? I think the outgoing Pope is a supervillain and belongs in prison. call me a hater all you like... your grounds was that I've never actually interacted with the guy personally. I guess not, his attempts to impose his dogma over me maybe don't really count. You haven't interacted personally with everyone on this earth who isn't the right kind of Christian, but you still said they deserve to be tortured... that isn't being a "hater"? ("hater" is your word, not mine... i'd probably call you a delusional fanatic instead)

I agree with fredcow here, there's no real reason to argue with spoony. Even if you win the argument the dude will misconstrue you for posts upon post til you forget what you were initially talking about. In his mind he's never lost an argument so why even attempt to oppose his viewpoint, there's no real reason to waste time debating with people like that.

there's no shame in losing an argument anthrax, the shame comes when you can't handle losing so you pretend you really won and the other guy cheated, like you're doing now. when people behave in renegade the way you're currently behaving on a forum, i expect you'll laugh at them

The question I answered is right above my post. I'll highlight it for you:

"Tell me Spoony, off the top of your head, what's one thing in your 10 year existence in the renegade community that you've ever admitted to being wrong about?"

You'll note that I answered the question. Move the goalposts if you like, if you can't handle being wrong again, which is what your original post was all about... the fact you can't handle losing an argument, so you pretend you really won. It's identical to the way troopr02 and orca treat renegade 1v1s

"clearly you're more intelligent than this?"

Yes, I am. I was reluctant to answer at all, because the question was a trap, albeit not a very good one, and I don't usually wanna play if the opponent tries to rig the game beforehand.

We're past the point where I need to justify myself; your turn.

Quote:Even if you win the argument the dude will misconstrue you for posts upon post til you forget what you were initially talking about.

Move the goalpost? You really are one silly son of a bitch, you don't think you've ever lost an argument HAHAH. Those things weren't arguments dumbass. Now answer my original question which you could clearly what as intended to be in the context .. you beat around the bush like you always do and try to turn it on me. The fact that you think a simple and honest question is a "trap" speaks volumes to your insecurities and is why not one person on this forum can take you serious. nice edit you can call me a retard if you like, but you're the one trying to use your own stupidity as an argument... you ever thought that it's up to you to find debates I lost, not me? you ever thought that if you try changing my mind and fail, it might just be because you're wrong? you ever thought that if you "forget what you were talking about" or "feel stupid", it's not because I was trying to make this happen but it's just because you genuinely are stupid?

you say good bye but you'll be back, i expect you'll pretend you won this argument too

Hop off spoony's dick for just one second and show me one argument spoony has ever lost on a forum against another person. It's never happened because the guy is literally smarter than Einstein. What did he even deflect? My question as to where he's lost a debate? What the fuck he didn't even answer it. Either your bias against me is blinding you or your nose is so far up his ass you can't even understand what's going on like usual. The fact that Spoony thinks even one person here gives a shit how right he thinks he is about everything is god damn hilarious to me. The guy has to be over 30 years old and the only achievements in his life come from keyboard warrioring internet debates and declaring himself the winner when his opponent decides to be the first one to see sunlight.

Liquid here's an example of what just happened so you can catch on:

I asked Spoony to provide me one example of where he's ever lost an arguement on a gaming forum .. (it's never happened, literally), I didn't use exactly the right wording so he said some retarded random bullshit. When he realized he couldn't respond and figured out he's a self righteous dickhead but didn't want to admit it to himself, (once again) he turned it back on me and made up some shit about being a hypocrite (not related to anything but some of his favorite things to call people who don't agree with him). He told me he could provide many examples but those were the first two off the top of his head, when I tweaked the question slightly it immediately became my job to find topics where he was proven wrong because once again we both know self righteous prick has never lost an argument and even he couldn't find an example even after telling me that those were the first two examples. (Talk about a hypocrite) I'd rather talk to a wall than watch spoony inflate his own ego. The fact that people like you liquid even stroke it for him is beyond pathetic. It must be because of your personal bias against me because no normal person could ever stoop to that level.

ljbh Spoony has lost more arguments than he's won he just keeps his composure and eventually the other person commits suicide out of boredom after being called a hypocrite, a cretin, a waste of space and a disgrace and whatever fancy intellectual insults spoony can throw your way to make himself seem classy and shit.

btw liquid you're a fucking clone of Spoony and use his same argumentive style which is why you always get your way in communities and eventually no one opposes you, you obviously print his picture off and frame them on your wall. between the two of you the social awkwardness must be unbearable, you should probably meet up and discuss what the weathers like sometime, it could clearly be turned into a two hour debate about whether or not it was sunny or not and what the definition of a temperature is. derfcow might not be the most intelligent mother fucker but im sure he at least has an actual sense of reality and doesn't need this forum to feel like he has some sort of meaning in his life. this might seem like ad hominem but seriously just take a step back and look at yourselves.

i did adapt something from Spoony and his style of going about things, which is the sense of open debate

a discussion becomes a sort of intellectual mosh pit, which is really the best way to test an idea's worth - if people can reason why it sucks, then it gets tossed out not sure why you're trying to personally insult me; does hearing an opinion differing from yours really upset you that much? if i ever met Spoony i'm sure we'd get along fine

Like I said earlier, anthrax, there's no shame in losing an argument. I meant that, and it works for both of us. I don't know why you're so obsessed with whether I've lost arguments or not. And let's be honest; you are obsessed. Look how trivial is the point you're trying to make, and look how angry you're getting over it. Show your girlfriend this thread.

I don't care about winning or losing arguments personally, or getting people to agree with me; I'm more interested in being right. I don't care about whether I've lost arguments, so why do you care whether I've lost arguments so much? And don't pretend you don't care. You weren't laughing at my expense when you posted all that tripe, you were angry. You really shouldn't be. Calm down.

Btw, why do you need me to point to examples of arguments I lost? Why don't you bring them up? Oh wait... it's because you were lying. You've made a rather long list of underhand debate tactics I've used; I challenged you twice to prove any of it and you couldn't, because you were lying. I'm very honest, whether you like or not. Brutally honest - I tell the truth even when I know it'll turn people against me. That's happened quite a lot on renegade forums. So when you say I'm dishonest in arguments, it's an accusation; you might as well be calling me a cheater. Prove it. Stop being a little bitch and prove the bullshit you're saying. I've challenged you twice already. Until you do, you're exactly the same as the idiot who throws out cheating accusations just because he lost.

Spoon wrote on Thu, 14 March 2013 16:12 Like I said earlier, anthrax, there's no shame in losing an argument. I meant that, and it works for both of us. I don't know why you're so obsessed with whether I've lost arguments or not. And let's be honest; you are obsessed. Look how trivial is the point you're trying to make, and look how angry you're getting over it. Show your girlfriend this thread.

I don't care about winning or losing arguments personally, or getting people to agree with me; I'm more interested in being right. I don't care about whether I've lost arguments, so why do you care whether I've lost arguments so much? And don't pretend you don't care. You weren't laughing at my expense when you posted all that tripe, you were angry. You really shouldn't be. Calm down.

I've asked you just as many times to answer me(and I asked first mind you) and you always reroute it on me. You're a liar and a hypocrite. You said you had many examples but that those were only two off the top of your head. They didn't follow the criteria that I had asked for so I rephrased my question and you immediately went bat shit crazy trying to call me names and say I'm a liar when you know this is the simplest thing I could have asked you.

I know you're waiting for your posse of fanboys to gang up on me hoping I'll get discouraged like any of your previous "victims". Fact is I have no idea why so many of these lowlifes idolize you, maybe it's because they have so much in common with you. You seem to think me telling you the truth (a truth you obviously can't admit to) is equivalent to getting angry. You're what .. 30 something? Single? Don't play renegade but still religiously search your name in the search box at least once a day of every major renegade forum? Have absolutely no relevance to this game anymore after single handedly destroying the competitive side of it? Challenge people to e-debates and declare yourself the winner every time after the person you're "debating" commits seppuku out of disgrace to the fact that they even wasted their time gracing you with a rebuttal?

You know there's no evidence to find of the things I'm accusing you of because you've never even lost a debate in your mind. You are the grand champion renegade debate master and it is the greatest title you will ever achieve in life. Keep it up bud, we're all proud of you. liquid just ordered his custom "Spoony's number 1 jersey" and is currently analyzing your debate techniques as we speak. You are a role model to lowlifes and anti-socials everywhere. Go ahead and call me angry if it helps you hide from the truth bud. I don't mind. I'm actually trying to help you, I'm currently enrolled in a 400 level abnormal psychology course and could probably give you a free consultation, assessment and diagnosis of your symptoms if you'd like. My treat for such a well respected member of the renegade community.

I'd really like to find the source of your insecurities and misguided narcissism. You're obviously compensating for something and I'd be more than willing to help you out if you'd let me. The funny thing about you stating that you're most interested in being right is that when you tell your mind you're right, you're always right. You're only right in your mind, and that's all you'll ever be, but at least you have a 100% streak of correctness. As long as it's in your head that you're right you're always right man! You can be outnumbered 15-1 but hey, you're Spoony. You're always right! When you banned the two most active members of cw.cc and sealed the door shut to anyone ever bothering with the community again, you were totally right and were willing to dismantle your own community just to prove it! 99% of the people in the community thought you were in the wrong and out of your mind insane, but hey man, your ego didn't let you down. Keep stroking that bad boy, it's all you have I'm sure.

Other famous people in power that have never been wrong: Fidel Castro, Adolf Hitler, Joseph Stalin, Saddam Hussein, Osama Bin Laden, and Hugo Chavez. So glad you ran Cw.cc with an iron fist, I would have been so disappointed if the competitive aspect of this game would have been around the last five years. Good thing you'd never let something so petty tear your community apart just to make sure your ego didn't deflate at all. Wouldn't want to lose a bit of that e-reputation or anything.

Spoony just for curiosity's sake, what do you do for a living? With your intelligence and debate skills you must be at least the most successful attorney in all of Great Britain, if not the Prime Minister.

The Three Muskaqueers gotta stick together. You're the most buttfurious retard in this entire community. Trolling all game and crying anytime you die while being 30 something. You try to pretend you're trolling but everyone knows you're just a closet sociopath with no accomplishments in life prying for attention any way possible and then try to deflect it when called out. Haha. n00bstories and jelly had to mute you because not one person in the entire community could stand you. nice life.

It's like you catalog what people have done in the past so you can try and use it against them later on. That's kind of really sad. I troll every game I've played. I've done it for over 10 years. I don't play games to be your friend. If we happen to hit it off, that's cool. Liquid happens to be one of the few people I actually talk to outside of Renegade, but beyond that most of you are just names on a screen and I don't catalog whatever you've done in the past just to use it against you in an argument. Here's why:

I don't care enough to.

I know you're sitting there with those flecks of spittle dusting your monitor, squinting through each droplet of your seething rage plastered across your screen, trying to figure out what it is that I mean by that phrase - since it's obviously so alien to you.

I mean I don't care enough about you to remember who you are. I am literally insulting you because you're a name on a screen, a name that seems to be having great difficulties writing any post here that isn't laced with buttfurious ranting about how terrible everyone else is compared to you.

You see, I'm too busy working, spending time with my family, and taking care of my life in general to wonder about who you are and why you're so buttfurious on this forum. I saw you getting pissy and decided to throw my spare change into the argument, because you seem like the type that will bite even if I threw out a weak line like "your m0m is fat lol". It's not even a challenge getting you worked up.

So, TL;DR version: I'm truly sorry that not wanting to be your friend over the Internet has enraged you so much. Here, I've attached an image which might help you with your dilemma.

But why would he care about tears in his hair? I'm sure his brand of shampoo is sufficient enough to keep his hair from splitting. Personally I use Garnier, smells great and keeps my hair tear free! But if Anthrax does in fact get tears from his shampoo, I would highly recommend Garnier. The baby formula just simply isn't made for adult hair, the formula is specialized for the softness of a infants head. Of course he might have a very sensitive scalp, in which case I've heard Head & Shoulders has a special shampoo for that particular case (and you don't have to look weak for using baby shampoo!)

But in any case, I wouldn't recommend using a baby shampoo if you're worried about tears in your hair, try Garnier!

actually I did respond to most of what you said, because most of what you said was accusations of debate cheating - I challenged you several times to back up what you said with evidence, and you've made it perfectly clear you can't. you lied and you got called out on it. you lied again about this inane question of yours; the simple fact is you asked a question (not a very good one but never mind) and i answered it. lie all you want, spin it all you want, those are the facts. what i asked you was a challenge to back up a lot of accusations you made, which is not the same thing. i predicted you couldn't, and i was right. i predicted you wouldn't retract what you said, and i was right. i predicted you'd get even angrier, and i was right.

as for who's right and who's wrong in an argument, let me enlighten you. you are not right or wrong based on how many people agree with you. you are not right based on whether or not your name is "spoony". you are right or wrong based on the evidence - based on whether or not the facts are on your side. i shouldn't have to explain this.

since you finally bothered giving a specific example of all these many arguments you think I lost - namely banning simpee and clearshot - it doesn't matter how many people agreed with you. 15 to 1, you say? it could have been 200 to 1 and I'd still have been right, because not a single one of those people could debunk what i said, try as they might... because all the facts supported my side, not theirs. it was your side who lost that argument. do you want to lose it all over again? because that won't take me long.

question 1. hands up if you think simpee and clearshot deserve a clan league to play in?

everybody's hand is up except mine, right?

question 2. hands up if you've ever lifted a finger to make that happen?

nothing has ever, ever stopped you from hosting a league for clearshot and simpee. they treated me like shit for YEARS, NON STOP - and how did i respond?

what is the league? it's me doing vermin like you a favour. you've done nothing to earn it, you don't deserve it, you have no reason to expect me to do it for you, and there is no reason why any of you can't do it too. you compare me to a list of dictators of countries - which shows how truly thick you are and how little you understand. the analogy fails on every level. it's not a country, it's something privately owned which i ran out of the goodness of my heart. the correct analogy would be a bowling alley that i pay for and let you use for free. if you don't like the way i run it, you can play in someone else's bowling alley... or you can start your own bowling alley... or you can not bowl at all... but what YOU do, idiot that you are, is bitch about the ONE PERSON who hosts a bowling alley for you and lets you use it for free because it isn't run EXACTLY the way you want it to be run.

i'll say it again: nothing has ever stopped any of you running your own clan league and running it differently. there is only one reason none of you did: you don't give enough of a shit about the competitive side of the game. you just pretend you do.

so, simpee and clearshot treat me like shit for years - i did nothing to provoke it, and how do i respond?... i carry on doing them a favour.

eventually, after a shitload of warnings, we reach the point where i decide i don't want to do them any favours anymore. that puts me on your level, by the way - you didn't host a league for simpee and clearshot too, remember? so anything you say about me applies to you too. applies to THEM as well.

in a nutshell, you spewing your nonsense about how spoony killed the league shows just how truly stupid you are. were it not for me, the league would have died years before it did, and anyone who isn't a fucking idiot knows that. let's also remember that simpee and clearshot could have gotten the ban lifted, and they chose not to. let's also remember that the league did not die when those two were banned - it died when i quit.

so yeah. i've said all this before and nobody could refute it then. go ahead and count how many people disagree with me; all you're doing is making a list of people who want simpee and clearshot to have a league but can't be bothered hosting it for them. NOTHING has ever stopped them doing so. but oh no, you think the one person who has to host a league for those vermin is the one person who they never ever stopped treating like shit? i have to ask, do you honestly not realise how stupid you sound when you say this? what kind of IDIOT looks at this situation and thinks i'm the one with the explaining to do? newflash, dipshit - i'm the only one who doesn't.

there you go, you learned something

So let me get this straight .. you're still hung up on the initial issue where I already admitted I phrased that wrong and rephrased that .. which you have yet to respond to? Seriously are you trying to be a retard or does it just come naturally? The only thing I could get you to respond to (obviously the truth to the rest of what I was saying or FACTS as you like to call them, are too much for your fragile ego to handle) was the cw.cc league thing getting ruined, which was actually just a setup to make you freak out and get angrier than you usually do. By the way your analogy sucks cock. There's only one renegade league on the internet, you were the only person with the connections to host one. That is in no way equivalent to someone disallowing someone into their public bowling alley. There are like thirty bowling alleys in a 20 mile radius, there is only one competitive renegade league which you chose to pussy out and quit at because your extremely fragile ego was scratched by some kids not disagreeing with you. An equivalent analogy for this would be you being the kid to go home crying with his sandbox toys because you were building a sand castle and little tommy accidentally ran your toe over with your tonka truck. You left everyone to play in the sand with no toys over something retarded as fuck and made a huge drama queen scene about it instead of just going about business as usual, but hey, just another day in the life of Spoony I guess. I'm glad you ignored all the FACTS I provided about how shitty your life is. I guess you already realize there's no rebuttal though so at least that's a step forward. What time is it there that you responded? Like 4:30 AM? Perfect time to be keyboard warrioring on a forum that has no relevance to you anymore for a game you no longer play and renegade players you should no longer want to associate with. Oh well, who am I to judge, I've seen worse in this community, two examples have already posted in this thread. It's always the anti-socials that band together, yet they still don't get anymore social. I never understand it. Keep calling me angry, it's actually kind of hilarious because it's not true at all but instead of responding to anything that you know is true you always just call the person angry. What is it that you're so insecure about really? I hope you're still awake ready to respond to this within the next hour too; I'm sure as hell AirCraftKiller is too busy not caring and having a life to respond so I need someone to talk to.

It's funny, when I first started playing this game (10 years ago now) I used to think SH0WBIZ was a pretty intelligent and hilarious mother fucker, I almost had the same kind of infatuation for you that liquidv2 has now. But after receiving an education it's actually hilarious as hell to read your debates and diagnose all your character flaws. I wish I would have been more intelligent when I was younger to realize what kind of rejects peruse this forum non-stop. Internet addiction is a real thing, and you guys can still seek help!

Anyways, this post will clearly upset you so I know you won't respond to any of it directly, you'll just deflect towards me and call me angry and tell me I'm lying because I can't find evidence to a question you've never answered even though you said you could provide me many examples (you've yet to do such a thing and you know you can't).

So please just stop responding if you're not going to do anything but troll. It really is pathetic, even for you Spoonerd.

Jesse wrote on Thu, 14 March 2013 20:52So let me get this straight .. you're still hung up on the initial issue where I already admitted I phrased that wrong and rephrased that ..

no, you're "still hung up on it", and by "hung up on it" I mean lying about what happened (again) and using it as a feeble excuse to dodge my repeated challenge to back up your accusations of debate cheating. Everyone knows why you won't really back it up. It's because you were lying. Again.

Quote:The only thing I could get you to respond to (obviously the truth to the rest of what I was saying or FACTS as you like to call them, are too much for your fragile ego to handle) was the cw.cc league thing getting ruined, which was actually just a setup to make you freak out and get angrier than you usually do.

no, it's because the clanwars thing was the only thing you've said so far that there's any point having a debate about, albeit a debate you've lost a dozen times over already.

Quote:By the way your analogy sucks cock. There's only one renegade league on the internet, you were the only person with the connections to host one.
Like I said, spin it all you like, the facts are what they are. I'm the only person who could be bothered hosting one. Nothing stopped you except the fact you didn't give enough of a shit. Why don't you just be honest about THAT part at least, if nothing else? Your life is far too cool and hectic to admin a renegade league, or something.

No, spare me your excuses. I don't have magic powers nobody else has. The only reason nobody else hosted a clan ladder is nobody gave enough of a shit. Be honest about that. You mean 99% of the competitive renegade community all wanted a clan ladder, and none of them - even working together - could get anything done about it?

Quote:That is in no way equivalent to someone disallowing someone into their public bowling alley. There are like thirty bowling alleys in a 20 mile radius, there is only one competitive renegade league

That's where the analogy doesn't quite work in reality, because bowling alleys are businesses; they're run because the owner charges the bowlers. Like I said, the correct analogy would be a bowling alley where the owner let people use it for free. I bet there aren't many of them in a 20 mile radius...

Quote:which you chose to pussy out and quit at because your extremely fragile ego was scratched by some kids not disagreeing with you.

Yeah, ok. Because nobody EVER disagreed with me at clanwars until then, it was a new and bewildering experience learn your renehistory please; i'm actually quite fine with people disagreeing with me

Quote:You left everyone to play in the sand with no toys over something retarded as fuck and made a huge drama queen scene about it instead of just going about business as usual, but hey, just another day in the life of Spoonie I guess.

I'm glad you said "business as usual", because you realise what business as usual is? It's not hosting a league for you. That's the default state. Hosting a league for you is not the default state.

So we went from "spoonie is hosting a league for clearshot and simpee" to "spoonie is not hosting a league for clearshot and simpee". If I'm a terrible person for joining that second category, then so are you... so, for that matter, are clearshot and simpee. They never hosted a league for me, nor did you. If you think clearshot and simpee deserve a clan league to play on, then the only sensible thing for you to say to me is to thank me for hosting one for them for so long, in spite of the despicable way they treated me for no reason. No fucker else did, now did they? Nobody gave enough of a shit about them. They just pretend they do.

Quote:I'm glad you ignored all the FACTS I provided about how shitty your life is. I guess you already realize there's no rebuttal though so at least that's a step forward.

Uh no. Firstly you were guessing about what my life is like; secondly this is not the "life forum", thirdly I don't seem to care whether you're impressed by my social life as much as you do?

if you recall, the last time you tried guessing about my life was when you went berserk on christmas eve a couple of years ago; you said my parents must be divorced and must have been abusing me because that's the only reason anybody would ever be an atheist.

(I'll correct that one - my parents are happily married and have been since their twenties. In defence of divorce, though, I do have a few friends whose parents are divorced, and I'll take their company over yours anyway; their parents may be divorced but they're still far less obnoxious than you are)

Of the "facts" (see: guesses) you've offered about what my life is like, the only one you were right about was my age. That's not quite the insult you seem to think it is, by the way. I will say that when I was your age I wasn't playing computer games, and I expect that'll probably sound like an insult, but just remember that I don't care what your hobbies are; I wish you well of them.

Quote:What time is it there that you responded? Like 4:30 AM? Perfect time to be keyboard warrioring on a forum that has no relevance to you anymore for a game you no longer play and renegade players you should no longer want to associate with.
Doesn't matter what time. Probably 2-3. I'm a bit of a night owl, mainly because of my job. I could tell you what that is, but why? Who cares?

Quote:Oh well, who am I to judge, I've seen worse in this community, two examples have already posted in this thread. It's always the anti-socials that band together, yet they still don't get anymore social. I never understand it.
You're right about one thing - you don't understand it. You're young and foolish, and you'll learn. All this stuff about someone's social life just shows you're a big silly. You'll learn that "having a life" simply means doing what you want to do. Likewise a person's job is not a point of shame unless it's something immoral. You meant these things as insults; you're only showing that you don't know very much about life, really. But that's ok, you're just young. Where you ARE going wrong is bitching at people for either playing renegade (or not playing renegade) and saying stuff on forums. Like I said, doesn't matter what a person's hobbies are, it's up to them to have fun with it - but why call someone a sad bastard because they're playing the same game you're playing, and posting on the same forum on which you're posting? Tell me, do your real life friends know how seriously you take this computer game? Would you be embarrassed if they did know?

Quote:Keep calling me angry, it's actually kind of hilarious because it's not true at all but instead of responding to anything that you know is true you always just call the person angry. What is it that you're so insecure about really?
Well, kiddo, you keep calling me stuff too; difference is I challenged you to back it up several times and you've made it very clear you couldn't.

I know a funny joke, by the way.

- How do you know Anthrax isn't angry?
- He tells you.

Ah. There's something I forgot to say. Have you noticed that when someone agrees with you against me, it proves you're right (see the "15-1" and "99%" thing, but when someone agrees with me against you (see this thread) there's obviously something fishy going on? Liquid and Aircraftkiller are my butt buddies who are ganging up on you for ulterior motives? Noobie please. Someone is quite capable of looking at a situation and thinking you're an idiot as well. (For the record, I've debated both of those two people on plenty of other issues)

Quote:But after receiving an education it's actually hilarious as hell to read your debates and diagnose all your character flaws.

Enjoy. Like I said, we all need a hobby and whatever yours are are your own affair.

Quote:I wish I would have been more intelligent when I was younger to realize what kind of rejects peruse this forum non-stop. Internet addiction is a real thing, and you guys can still seek help! Uh ok. I glance at forums maybe once a week or so, usually less than that.

As for the nonsense you asked me about where are the debates I lost, take a good look at what a bad question that is. What a silly point to try to prove, it's barely even a point at all. Why aren't you posting these debates where I lost and did some form of debate cheating to get myself out of it? We all know why - because you can't. You were lying.

By the way, you owe me a retraction and an apology for calling me a liar several times. I've challenged you to back this up with evidence and you've made it perfectly clear you can't. I value honesty very highly; I won't lie even to scum like you. You should withdraw it and apologise. (You won't though, you haven't the balls or the intellectual honesty)

Jesse wrote on Thu, 14 March 2013 18:45I know you're waiting for your posse of fanboys to gang up on me hoping I'll get discouraged like any of your previous "victims". Fact is I have no idea why so many of these lowlifes idolize you, maybe it's because they have so much in common with you. You seem to think me telling you the truth (a truth you obviously can't admit to) is equivalent to getting angry. You're what .. 30 something? Single? Don't play renegade but still religiously search your name in the search box at least once a day of every major renegade forum? Have absolutely no relevance to this game anymore after single handedly destroying the competitive side of it? Challenge people to e-debates and declare yourself the winner every time after the person you're "debating" commits seppuku out of disgrace to the fact that they even wasted their time gracing you with a rebuttal?

i don't get it; why don't you answer his two simple questions? all he did was ask you to back up your opinion, and you're dodging it harder than troopr02 ever dodged anything

what do you mean by "single handedly destroying the competitive side"? you mean clanwars? without him it wouldn't have existed in the first place (not sure if you remember, or actually understand that) you speak so fondly of smak forums and whatnot, so i'm confused by your statement

you're gracing Spooky with a rebuttal? you're not even able to back up your very first few posts; why are you still posting at all? i blame the derfcow within you

Jesse wrote on Thu, 14 March 2013 18:45I'm actually trying to help you, I'm currently enrolled in a 400 level abnormal psychology course and could probably give you a free consultation, assessment and diagnosis of your symptoms if you'd like. My treat for such a well respected member of the renegade community.

Jesse wrote on Thu, 14 March 2013 18:45I'd really like to find the source of your insecurities and misguided narcissism. You're obviously compensating for something and I'd be more than willing to help you out if you'd let me. The funny thing about you stating that you're most interested in being right is that when you tell your mind you're right, you're always right. You're only right in your mind, and that's all you'll ever be, but at least you have a 100% streak of correctness. As long as it's in your head that you're right you're always right man! You can be outnumbered 15-1 but hey, you're Spooky.

rather than lecture him on something i'm sure he already knows, why not answer his simple questions (which were even more simple than you think - they asked you to back up your own words)

Jesse wrote on Thu, 14 March 2013 18:45Other famous people in power that have never been wrong: Fidel Castro, Adolf Hitler, Joseph Stalin, Saddam Hussein, Osama Bin Laden, and Hugo Chavez. So glad you ran Cw.cc with an iron fist, I would have been so disappointed if the competitive aspect of this game would have been around the last five years. Good thing you'd never let something so petty tear your community apart just to make sure your ego didn't deflate at all. Wouldn't want to lose a bit of that e-reputation or anything.

i was under the assumption you hardly clanned at any point in the past 5 or more years (that's based off your own words); with that being said, you seem rather upset that clanwars is no longer active

You left everyone to play in the sand with no toys over something retarded as fuck and made a huge drama queen scene about it instead of just going about business as usual, but hey, just another day in the life of Spoonie I guess. like Spoonie already explained, it's your analogy that doesn't hold up here (and it's easy to point out why) pretend Renegade is a small unknown town in Wisconsin, and Spoonie opened up a bowling alley - he let anyone come to it, and only kicked out people that broke the bowling alley rules (the few people banned for cheating or faking their bowling scores over the years) i like both simpee and clearshot, but i wasn't around clanwars.cc during any of this - in this example, they are two of the most-known townsfolk in Renegade, Wisconsin they tend to give the guy running the bowling alley crap, and after a while (several years, literally) he decides he's had enough and bans them from his bowling alley in this case, you and a number of other people are angry at the guy running the bowling alley for not running it the way you want him to; why not make your own bowling alley, and why did no one else do so? he was quite honestly not the only one that could have run a bowling alley; if that thought is what prevented people from doing so, that's their problem (i don't understand why it would be his) rather than making another bowling alley, people decided to just bowl in the streets, their front yards, and basements and whatnot (simpee and clearshot eventually moved away from Renegade, Wisconsin, and stop by on occasion)

like Spoonie said, i don't understand why any of that has anything to do with this topic if Spoonie's job was cleaning up old people poop all day or something would it make you feel less bad about being wrong? or would you say "Hey, all you do is clean up old people poop, so your words have no validity" that's the kind of thinking people had in the old days of kings and whatnot; Spoonie is an example of civilized society, where the only thing that matters is what's right and not who's saying it this shouldn't be too hard to understand, but since you haven't gotten it already i don't think you're going to

As for the nonsense you asked me about where are the debates I lost, take a good look at what a bad question that is. What a silly point to try to prove, it's barely even a point at all. Why aren't you posting these debates where I lost and did some form of debate cheating to get myself out of it? We all know why - because you can't. You were lying.

By the way, you owe me a retraction and an apology for calling me a liar several times. I've challenged you to back this up with evidence and you've made it perfectly clear you can't. I value honesty very highly; I won't lie even to scum like you. You should withdraw it and apologise. (You won't though, you haven't the balls or the intellectual honesty)

All this and you still are avoiding the initial question? Really? Haha too funny. Why are you more entitled to having your questions answered than I am? We're both playing the same game, only difference is you've yet to respond to the question that I asked you first. Really this whole debate could have been avoided if you'd just answer it. It was a matter of opinion on your side so I don't really see how there can be evidence for it. It's funny though all these years you've been accusing people of not having lives, now that's it's turned on you you couldn't give a shit apparently? Funny how the stance has changed when you take a second to look in the mirror.

Liquid just shut up because anything you say is ad hominem trying to insult my intelligence and it just fails, you couldn't even last two years in college and are probably working minimum wage at Walmart right now. The meme you posted is about Psychology 101, I'm in Psychology 403 which is Psychology for majors, you weren't in college very long so you probably don't even know the difference, so you're forgiven. I don't know where your ego comes from and the subtle arrogant undertones in everything you write is really pathetic; you have nothing to be proud of. I can't even bother rebutting what you say because you'll just try to Spoony me but it fails so hard. I am proud of you for finding a girlfriend and doing something with your life, I hope it all works out in the long run. I'd much rather hang out with derfcow than your awkward ass though.

BTW cool guys my spring break starts this week so don't be expecting any replies not saying I won't respond but it's a lot harder to get internet access and this isn't that enthralling, though I was hoping I could benefit both Spoony and liquid from it. Spoony I know you read this forum at least once a day because any time your name is mentioned you respond within 24 hours (it's not a coincidence every time, and also it's hilarious how you have a 6th sense for knowing you're mentioned, clearly gotta search your name every day and make sure no one is bashing your e-rep).

It's fucking hilarious to see a guy falsely accusing someone of using manipulation and lies to win debates employ the very same techniques while demanding from the falsely-accused his own evidence of past manipulation.

Lol okay? Captain retard comes out of left field. I'm still not seeing where I accused him of manipulation and lies .. I'm just asking if he's ever lost an arguement in his own mind. Should be a simple yes or no answer .. nothing to slit your wrists over. I know you hate to see your god be questioned but I promise its not a tough one. God damn you people are fucking weird. i'm no more awkward than you are; even if i wasn't, it doesn't change what i said i don't expect you to reply to what i said (i know you couldn't, and dodging is nothing new to you) ((HaTe 1v1 ringing any bells?))

i've lasted longer than two years in college - i did stop going for a while, but it was because i ran out of money and didn't want to take out loans (what's the point in racking up a large amount of debt when you're still unsure what you want to do? unlike you my mother and father didn't entirely pay for my education, but you can hold that against me if you want to)

if i recall correctly, you're the one that didn't last two years in college (even though it was entirely paid for) - i'm not going to hold that against you, even though you tried to do the exact same to me just now

here's the topic in a nutshell: Spoony asked you to back up your statements, and you didn't (but you refuse to retract them, which basically removes your validity and shows you're an indecent person)

not sure why you expect Spoony to answer a question after the above statement has been brought to light the only other person to accuse me of being egotistical or arrogant is shaitard; i'm really not in the slightest (he mistakes blunt honesty for arrogance)

i'm merely pointing out the error in your ways, and you're not understanding it and becoming frustrated (you can believe i'm wrong, but you're not going to be able to show or prove it, which in my mind should raise a red flag for you)

if DJ wasn't so damn retarded i'd think he was actually trolling because he described himself to a tee in his own post

i'm sure you'd get along with derfcow just fine feel free to take a crack at it, or just do what you've been doing all along and dodge - it wouldn't be re-read one of your posts on page two.

Jesse wrote on Fri, 15 March 2013 21:58 The fact he keeps dodging

he didn't dodge jackshit. You asked him a question:

Jesse wrote on Wed, 13 March 2013 09:54 Tell me Spooky, off the top of your head, what's one thing in your 10 year existence in the renegade community that you've ever admitted to being wrong about?

he answered it:

Spoony wrote on Wed, 13 March 2013 11:31 - unbanning robo
- letting people AR games when warrior names didn't match if someone on the losing team said it was ok

you moved the goalposts:

Jesse wrote on Wed, 13 March 2013 11:37
No both those things aren't relevant, I'm talking about an actual debate.. not something you did and later regretted ..

then, liquid precisely summarized what has happened to every opponent who has ever debated Spoony:

liquidv2 wrote on Thu, 14 March 2013 00:49

denial.

Jesse wrote on Fri, 15 March 2013 10:36 All this and you still are avoiding the initial question? Really? Haha too funny. Why are you more entitled to having your questions answered than I am?

1. I already answered your question. you can lie about what happened all you like, but the thing about forums is people can see what you said and what I said.
2. your question was inane and pointless, whereas my question was challenging you to back up some accusations you made

Quote: We're both playing the same game, only difference is you've yet to respond to the question that I asked you first. Really this whole debate could have been avoided if you'd just answer it. it could also be avoided if you weren't obsessed with whether or not I've lost internet arguments or not; you certainly care about it much more than I do any old excuse eh? if I really was guilty of these underhand debate tactics you've accused me of, if I do it all the time as you keep saying, why can't you prove it? I haven't gone back and deleted posts from old arguments, so why can't you prove I did what you said I did? This would be A LOT easier to prove than someone was in-game cheating, because all the posts are still there; it's like you have the whole game on fraps.

Quote:It was a matter of opinion on your side so I don't really see how there can be evidence for it.

so why can't you? everybody knows why you can't... because you were lying Quote:It's funny though all these years you've been accusing people of not having lives, now that's it's turned on you you couldn't give a shit apparently? Funny how the stance has changed when you take a second to look in the mirror.

What? Are you confusing me with someone else? I don't care whether someone else "has a life" or not. I don't even recognise that as a coherent accusation. In my mind, having a life means doing what you want to do, it's that simple. I've been saying that for years, actually...

Quote:Liquid just shut up because anything you say is ad hominem trying to insult my intelligence and it just fails

Nobody needs to insult your intelligence. Since you're quite happy to attempt to diagnose complex mental issues over the internet, you won't mind my observation that you are not only thoroughly obnoxious, you also are clearly not very intelligent. One doesn't need qualifications in psychology to see that.

It's not your fault, of course, though being so obnoxious probably is.

Quote:I don't know where your ego comes from and the subtle arrogant undertones in everything you write is really pathetic; you have nothing to be proud of.

You're studying psychology and you don't know where a person's ego comes from? Seriously? Do you even know what ego means? You throw the word around an awful lot, but... I suspect you mean egotism, which is just not the same thing. It's a forgivable mistake for anybody who isn't throwing their weight around as a big bad psychologist making these ridiculous attempts to diagnose other people's mental illnesses; you could at least try to sound like you know the basics.

Quote:I can't even bother rebutting what you say because you'll just try to Spoony me but it fails so hard.

Yeah, every time you can't rebut someone it's always because they're cheating, isn't it? Like I said, you're exactly the same as the guy who cries *cheat name removed*every time he loses. It is exactly the same situation. To carry the analogy over, you're doing the debate equivalent of repeatedly falling out of your apache and accusing the enemy of using some cheat that MAKES you fall out. One of these days you will figure out that you're just not very good at debating, because you're fundamentally dishonest, not very intelligent, overly obnoxious, and rarely if ever have the facts on your side.

Quote:Spoony I know you read this forum at least once a day because any time your name is mentioned you respond within 24 hours (it's not a coincidence every time, and also it's hilarious how you have a 6th sense for knowing you're mentioned, clearly gotta search your name every day and make sure no one is bashing your e-rep).

Really? It seems like there's a simple way to check this - we can search for "spoony", look at the first batch of results - let's say the first page - and see how many of those I replied to in 24 hours. But is there any point? If it turns out you're wrong again, will you just dodge it again and go on to the next accusation, like you've done thus far?

I probably confused you a bit there when I proposed how to check it, because ljbh you do seem rather allergic to evidence; look at your abysmal failure to back up your earlier accusations, look at that healthcare thread where Aircraftkiller kept asking you for citations for what you were saying and you failed just as badly there.

You've already forgotten calling me a liar (which doesn't really surprise me, because you obviously don't think honesty is worth much), and accusing me of underhand debate tactics? Barely two days ago and you've already forgotten? That is worrying.

Quote:I'm just asking if he's ever lost an argument in his own mind. Should be a simple yes or no answer .. nothing to slit your wrists over.

there's an awful number of things you were proven wrong about, and caught lying about, that you're still dodging...

and once again, I answered your question. the answer is "who cares?"

perhaps you saw me say that whether you're right or not is not based on whether or not your name is "spoon"; this means it's not impossible for me to lose an argument. if you care so much about whether i've lost an argument, and it looks like you care an awful lot, why don't you post examples of where I did? you won't have won the argument if you do, because like I said, there's no shame in losing an argument.

the only example you've cited is the clearshot/simpee thing, and i didn't lose that argument. you lost that argument. badly. and you dodged the fact you did. again.

so yeah, if you did point out an occasion where I did lose an argument, you'd still be the idiot here. what WOULD be worth proving is the accusations you made about underhand debate tactics.

the ones i've challenged you several times to prove.

THE ONES YOU CAN'T PROVE.

BECAUSE YOU WERE LYING. AGAIN.

4 pages .. spoony still avoids the original question. liquid doesn't seem to catch on and still openly allows spoony to gape his asshole. nice community.

btw by retards i mean socially awkward people with no social outlet aside from renforums like you, spoony, aircraftkiller, and starbuzz. etc. you guys have to stick together no matter what haha. i miss the ol' renforums with kids that used to troll you uptight serious retards. it's hard doing it alone.

but i am serious spoony takes himself way too seriously undefeated renebate champ 10 years running! better record than manny pacquiao in the ring!!!

HINT for liquid: posting yourself shirtless flexing in the mirror at the gym every day for sweaty gaming male nerds is not normal behavior. but thanks for thinking we're anywhere near equal it was cute.

Spoony you ever going to answer the question or you going to keep lying bro? Nope just keep accusing me of being angry because you know you have no life. :/ Answering the question / or realizing the truth are just out of the fucking question obviously.

I can answer "who cares" to any of the shit you've said too .. makes for some real interesting debate. FACT(i know you're all about facts) is that you a) have never lost a debate in your own mind, b) use facts that only you think are facts c) are a ginormous tool that always manipulates the argument for your own benefit like you're obviously doing in this very fucking thread. there's the proof for you you fucking retard. enough said. all you had to do was answer one question but you couldn't even do that, then you twist the entire debate to be focused on me when you've yet to answer the initial question. now please just get a fucking life this is pathetic.

i do realize Spoony hasn't given a "yes" or "no" answer to your refined question, and i'm not sure if he's going to or not here's the thing that matters to me: you said a bunch of things, and you haven't been able to back them up i, being an honest person, think that's a pretty shady and dishonest thing of you to do (if Spoony had done it, you can be sure i'd ask him to do the same)

if you're going to attempt to unload a can of whoopass on the guy, at least make sure you have ground to stand on (because you apparently have nothing, but are refusing to back down anyways)

that makes you look like a complete tool

Internet Psychologist

An individual, often pretentious, that takes huge leaps of logic in order to claim an understanding of the real-world persona of someone they come in contact with through the internet. This is usually in an argument or debate, as internet psychologists usually love to think they are right about everything.

They have a tendency to point out things that people say and use them as evidence to "prove" they are a certain way in real life. Often, they are wrong, as they tend to stretch the truth of the facts they are given to fit a negative image of the person they are "evaluating" and just come across looking like complete tools.

Internet Psychologist: You're obviously someone ugly who can't get a girl and is trying to downplay it by saying you don't think this attractive girl is attractive.

Normal Person: Dude, all I said was that I personally am not into redheads. Stop being an internet psychologist.

I wouldn't start talking about memory problems if I were you... apparently me just talking to you makes you forget what you were talking about. On a forum where you can see for yourself what you were talking about, that would be impressive. Almost as impressive as the mind control you seem to think I have over everyone else in this thread. Why does everyone think you're a dumbass? Not because you're a dumbass... because I told them to think you're a dumbass, and even the ones who don't like me (probably about half of them, which is fine) obeyed. I got skills, apparently

Do you want me to tell you a bit about either of those two things, or are you just trying to insult me? Firstly most of the things you think are insults aren't actually insults. Calling someone single isn't an insult; there's nothing wrong with being single. Criticising someone's job isn't an insult unless it's something immoral. Someone could clean toilets or something for minimum wage and they'd still be beating you, because you're completely dependent upon your parents. Nor is "not having a life" a coherent accusation, because having a life = doing what you want to do (I really don't know why you can't understand that, it just goes to show how thick you are), and it's different for all of us. Somebody could enjoy debating on computer game forums - whatever floats a person's boat. You seem to think doing that makes a massive geek... and yet here you are. Are you in any confusion about that? Doing what you like = having a life. Doing what you hate and then saying everyone else doesn't have a life because they're doing the same thing (albeit better than you) = very confused

You know very little about life, and you make it clear again and again. To be this clueless about life is forgivable when you're still at high school; at your age, it just shows you're very dim.

The only thing you've said about me that is an insult is "liar" and the accusations of underhand debate tactics; that's why they're the only things I've challenged you to prove - repeatedly - and you couldn't. And everyone saw that you couldn't. And yet every time you're wrong about something you don't admit it, you just plunge on with another attempt at an insult, most of which wouldn't even be insults if they were true.

Don't mind him. He's a Republican. The reason why his parents have a shitty failing business is because they can't see outside their conservative thought-bubble, so all they hear is what they want to hear. They passed on those characteristics of failure to their kid. It isn't his fault. Blame the parents.

I'm fairly certain English isn't their first language, it might not even be their second. Not much of an excuse but coming from other languages and learning the less complex linguistics of English could definitely be confusing.

G1D is able to hold a conversation quite well too.

G1D is doing good for himself - just turned 19, has been living on his own for a while now and even supports one of his family members. I'm proud of him considering he's younger than me and doing bigger things.

As for DJ, if you're not on his bad side (I haven't been, yet) he's a decent guy. He isn't without fault (the beyond terrible grammar/spelling, the i'm above everyone attitude, ex-egf grudges, etc.) but then again no one is.

Not going to lie, actually trying to pronounce and read some of the shit these guys spew out is hilarious. Lawn gauges anyone?
