50% of US homicides are committed by blacks according to the FBI, they make up 1/8th of the population:

That has to be one of the most retarded things I've ever read. Especially considering whites started leaving Detroit in the 1970's after black terror and riots. And of course after black democrats got elected.

White Americans have the same murder rate as Belgium:
<http://americablog.com/2013/01/ann-coulter-murder-america-belgium.html>

And US blacks have a murder rate more like those of an African country, though US blacks are 20-25% genetically European so it's lower than in Africa.

One other difference is that US black IQ is 85 because of the European admixture while average IQ in African countries is 70 and the US white IQ is 103 (world-wide white IQ is about the same).

This post reminds me of one of those kids that believe the color of your skin determines what type of person they are. Or at the very least one of those people that bitch about killing black people in Resident Evil 5... which is in AFRICA. Guess what, if a city is mostly black people most of the crime will be committed by black people.

In addition you're not factoring in that racist mean ladys were still treating black people negatively, which creates a very different environment for a group of people just due to their skin color. In the end there are far too many factors for you to account for (or as it seems are even capable of comprehending) that can lead to the behavior of a group of people.

It's not color of skin, it's race. Only 11%-16% of US blacks have an IQ of 100. In South Africa the average IQ of an African university student is 85.

<http://www.vdare.com/articles/iq-why-africa-is-africa-and-haiti-haiti>

<http://psychology.uwo.ca/faculty/rushtonpdfs/ravensi.pdf>

IQ is mostly inherited, around 40-80% according to the mainstream science of the mid-90s (current research suggests 60-80% heritability):

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mainstream_Science_on_Intelligence

>It was drafted by professor of psychology Linda Gottfredson and signed by Gottfredson and 51 other university professors specializing in intelligence and related fields, including around one third of the editorial board of the journal Intelligence,[1]

Conclusions:

>"Heritability estimates range from 0.4 to 0.8 ... indicating genetics plays a bigger role than environment in creating IQ differences"

>"IQ is strongly related, probably more so than any other single measurable human trait, to many important educational, occupational, economic, and social outcomes ... Whatever IQ tests measure, it is of great practical and social importance"

>"The bell curve for whites is centered roughly around IQ 100; the bell curve for American blacks roughly around 85; and those for different subgroups of Hispanics roughly midway between those for whites and blacks. The evidence is less definitive for exactly where above IQ 100 the bell curves for Jews and Asians are centered"

Race and crime:

http://en.metapedia.org/wiki/Race_and_crime#United_States

In London and Toronto black crime is even higher than in the US.

>But there is a major flaw in the thesis that income differences explain the racial gap. Consider these three observable facts from The College Board's 2005 data on the SAT:

>• Whites from families with incomes of less than $10,000 had a mean SAT score of 993. This is 129 points higher than the national mean for all blacks.

>• Whites from families with incomes below $10,000 had a mean SAT test score that was 61 points higher than blacks whose families had incomes of between $80,000 and $100,000.

>• Blacks from families with incomes of more than $100,000 had a mean SAT score that was 85 points below the mean score for whites from all income levels, 139 points below the mean score of whites from families at the same income level, and 10 points below the average score of white students from families whose income was less than $10,000.

In NYC 96% of homicides are committed by blacks and Hispanics while they make up a 50% of its population. 70% of those homicides are committed by blacks:

http://www.nyc.gov/html/nypd/downloads/pdf/analysis_and_planning/crime_and_enforcement_activity_jan_to_jun_2012.pdf

Even though Asians are the poorest group in NY, schools and universities there are implementing measures to racially discriminate against them because there are too many of them in schools and it breaks the narrative that poverty is keeping Hispanics and blacks down in the US:

I don't see anything about what efferent they went to to prevent unbiased populations in these statics. As well all known people generally seek others out that are like themselves, it only makes sense that smart people would tend to form communities of smart people and red necks would form red neck communities. Thus if they were lazy and just grabbed local people or people in near by communities it would easily make sense that one group would differ from another.

As for comparing American college students to African college students I think there are far too many environmental factors to account for. Everything from politics to food differs between the two countries, which obviously leaves a lot of bias if your just trying to say race or genetics is the only factor.

In the end if it is genetics there is literally nothing that can be done and people will just have to deal with it until everyone is a mutt in the US.

Most of the statistics are nation-wide, the studies with a smaller sample size re-affirm earlier research by other scientists (e.g. the South African black student studies).

In terms of environment, I can't find much info on Africans in Europe but they're a underclass there and a lot of Africans in Europe are refugees who thus have a lower IQ. In the US most of African immigrants have a higher IQ because of the the tighter immigration laws.

US black and Hispanic PISA scores for math are laughably bad too (scroll down a bit for the table):

<http://www.unz.com/isteve/nyt-why-do-americans-stink-at-math/>

Problem with the 'Asian American' data is that Pakistanis, Indians and other non-East Asians are also under that category, east-Asians score more like the east-Asian countries at the top of the list, while at least Pakistani-Americans score worse than the Asian-American average.

One other issue is that having so many black and Hispanic students creates more pressure to lower the educational standard of the country, which affects performance for whites and Asians too. This is more clear when the Swedish PISA data is analysed:

we already have that you silly bastard, they're trying to remove it, not give it to us!

No Sh1t Cpt. obvious! I was well aware of the current situation, my point was its pretty much impossible to take something from millions of people away after giving it to them, than in first place not give it to every1. The NRA will do its best to keep the current situation, and by every fucking republican voter in the USA they are supported, you guys will never get to the point of your Problem, never.

how was anyone supposed to infer that from what you actually posted?

the past few generations in America have been raised in violence, and we're too obsessed with that, death, and killing in general to ever give up firearms the rest of the world seems to be moving away from the death penalty (the civilized parts, at least), but America is steadily moving closer to having it in all 50 states

I don't trust my state in the slightest LOL that's why I'm glad we still have firearms... even if nobody in my household owns one, I live in Alabama so there's probably a gun in every other house in my neighborhood...

and yeah, it would be a "grand idea" to move to another country but you kinda ignore the immigration laws of each country and the practicality of performing such a move... my family most certainly does not have the money for that Americans think they need a gun cause others have a gun, otherwise they can't protect themselves, why do they even have to fear neighbours, I have a lot of neighbours and I can tell ya by nearly 100% that none of them has a gun nor will they ever need it. If you don't have to be afraid of those things you don't need a gun, people need to learn that there is not a criminal behind each corner.

That depends on your definition of 'criminal'.

If your neighbors had a gun, or multiple guns, they wouldn't tell you or want you to know, I would assume, because they are 'illegal',remember?
I find it interesting that you seem to be able to look into the future and tell me with near certainty that they will never need a gun, and I don't mean just for firing purposes.

Yes. Both Mike Brown and his friend who's the key eyewitness are known criminals. His friend is wanted over a 2011 case and was an accomplice to the robbery Brown committed. Brown has tons of pictures of him doing drugs, gangs signs and wearing gang colors. He also was an 'aspiring' rapper.

But Brown still thought he was a suspect in the robbery and that the police officer was trying to arrest him, which quite obviously affected his behavior and is very relevant to the case.

Yes, I believe genes influence behavior.

I actually looked that quote up right after I posted it and found that, but regardless of who said it, it's still true! The point of firearms isn't so we can have them and run around shooting and robbing random people... the weaponry is only a preventative measure against those would who like to take advantage of the masses! There's a very specific reason as to why multiple companies in the US dump enormous amounts of money into anti-gun lobbies and campaigns...

It just isn't going to happen. The second amendment was designed in the era of muskets, not machine guns, tanks, missiles, atomic weapons, etc. It's horribly outdated. It has almost no place in modern life

Also, if it were actually interpreted as written, you'd have to be in the National Guard to own a gun

Actually yes you can. It's called peaceful protest and awareness. It's not that hard but whether you have the balls to do it is the question. Have you joined a political party and campaigned for a candidate you identify with? Have you volunteered your time to assist organizations promoting change?

Buying firearms to oppose some government boogeyman only divides you from your neighbours more. It turns your home into a castle, and turns your fellow man into 'the other.' It leads to you not even capable of communicating ideas without the notion of gun-violence pervading your thinking.

If you're white, you can peacefully assemble. White American's typically believe that 3 or more blacks/minorities is a 'riot.' Since this continues to be perpetuated, police forces are only acting in what they perceive to be proper fashion, as dictated by voters.

It's America firing teargas at people it has consistently deemed subhuman.

Considering how the US is rapidly declining and European-Americans will make up less than 40% of the US population in 2050 the militarization of the police is needed, as the country becomes another Brazil and the welfare programmes end.

Anyway in other good news, ebola is spreading exponentially and in 5 countries now:

Your joking about the protest right, no one cares about people protesting, the only time people notice such things is when the protest gets in the way of their everyday life; and if it gets in the way of enough people's lives measures will be taken to remove said people.

And then there is the media, take a group of people protesting a bad thing. By the time the media is done with it the group of protesters will sound like a bunch of nuts after an outcome that is that they could never get, and the thing they are protesting is in place for reasons too complex for the general public to understand.

I like the status quo. It's financially and economically beneficial for me if it stays that way and America continues down its current path. I'm a white male with a tonne of money who continues getting more and more.

I'm only telling you how to win against me and people like me. It's been a pretty easy fight so far.

Well the other nations of the world are finally getting sick of the fiat US Dollar, as evidenced by the BRICS New Development Bank and the decision by some countries (such as Russia and China) to trade in their own currencies instead of our worthless Federal Reserve bullshit...

It's unfortunate, because the collapse of the dollar is going to absolutely wreck America - this is my home, and I've got nowhere to go...

oh and I didn't watch the live feeds last night, but now the Missouri National Guard is being called out... yay! also multiple reports of the police simply not doing anything to stop the looters...

it appears our overlords are practicing their implementation of martial law... it's gonna be a rough ride my friends

Pretty much spot on Ethenal about the US $$$. It is pretty scary watching it from my side in Banking. I've been converting my $$ to Gold. lol

As far as what's going on here in Missouri (in my backyard), the Ferguson residents are peacefully protesting. It's been proven it's our normal every day criminal that are coming up from the bad parts of St. Louis starting the violence so they can loot. National media seems to be ignoring that.

The National Guard unfortunately is needed because St. Louis County which Ferguson contracts for Police assistance can't handle this situation and the State Police just isn't staffed to cover this either. St. Louis County took the position they will not have more potential loss of life over property. They even pulled support from the liquor store that provided the tape of M. Brown choking the store owner and taking what he wanted without paying hours before he was killed.

Ferguson is a small suburb of St Louis with limited services such as Police. This officer that shot M. Brown probably makes about $25,000 a year and thought I'm not mking enough to deal with this ass and laid him out. The fact the Officer had to use deadly force when M. Brown had no weapon says to me he acted incorrectly. M. Brown should never have had access to the Officers gun as the Officer claims M. Brown grabbed it. We should have heard about a Taser or club being used 1st. So the protestors seem to have a good cause to peacefully protest imo but not loot. M. Brown should be alive with either his brains scrambled and/or badly beaten. But not shot 6 times (2 in the head from above!)

If the Zombies attack tomorrow (or insert an actually possible event here) people aren't going to be wanting gold, they'll want food, ammo, and water.

Gold is like bitcoin, its value depends on how much there is and how much people want it, there could be 1 bit coin, but if no one wanted bit coin for black market trading or whatever it'd be worth nothing.

Long story short, if society goes under you'll be left with piles of gold that no body wants anymore.

yeah buy gold, silver and bitcoin.

I don't think the dollar is actually going to collapse, its definatly going to be devalued massively tho, and have its reserve currency status taken. The IMF might try an SDR when people lose confidence in paper money, which they should, and it might work... but I doubt it. They probably do not want to return to gold but they might just have to.

Gold is more rare than rare earth metals, it would actually force fiscal responsibility on the people that have the controls.

It has been money for 6000 years and there were very good reasons as to why the market chose gold.

- 1.) Store of Value
- 2.) Generally Accepted
- 3.) Durable
- 4.) Divisible
- 5.) Portable

Sure, the dollar has most of these aspects covered, but definitely not number 1 on the list.

and offcourse fiat just fucking sucks and you're a dickhead for sticking up to it, many millions of people have lost their lives in wars due to government monopolized money, alot of times the wars were just covered in expenses by money printing.

Would of been intresting to see what would happen if 51% of the people wanted to go to war, and they would actually get a bill in the mail for 50000 dollars per person, I dont think many people would want to go anymore.

let the market decide what is money and what is not, but like always try to keep the government out of it because they will just fuck it up as they always do.

(pretty hard to do against an entity with the monopoly on force)

^ Thanks for the link.

Quote:"Political power grows out of the barrel of a gun" - Mao Zedong

The Georgetown University professor and elite-insider Carroll Quigley wrote a massive book called Weapons Systems and Political Stability which essentially laid bare the fact that democracy was only possible due to the mass manufactured weaponry in the hands of the citizenry.

In previous ages when the citizenry could not afford weapons (swords and armour cost way too much for a farmer) then it was the kings and lords in their castles that ruled over the powerless people. Since only the rich could muster the gold to afford armour plates and give them out to their guards, the outlook of entire eras were decided by who owned the weapons. For example, the Feudal Age.

The fucking idiots of today, blinded by utopian fantasies of peace and the fraud of "progress" and propelled by the most efficient propaganda machine assembled ever in the history of man, the electronic media, are coldly herded like sheep to their slaughter houses as those in power systematically employ every lie possible to get the people to disarm and also to get other people to speak out for the disarmament of others! Having lost sight of the reason for them being entrusted with weapons in the first place, the cocky arrogant yet immensely naïve clowns do the bidding of their invisible masters .

With their weapons confiscated and the COCKY BRAINDEAD SHEEP left holding only their porno mags, beer cans, pizzas, and ball game tickets the elite are free to rule over them forever!

Quote:If you want a vision of the future, imagine a boot stamping on a human face - for ever. - George Orwell.

This is what they have in mind for us; the global cattling of humanity.

REVOLT.

edit: We see the same theme of Quigley's "Weapons Systems and Political Stability" in political affairs today; beneath all the suits and ties, behind all the diplomatic conferences and paper baiting lies raw military power backed up by nuclear bombs, aircraft carriers, bombers, tanks, and lots of armed men. Because without it diplomacy is nothing; you would get laughed off the table.

The same principle applies to people under representative governments. Gun ownership =

POWER. Period.

We are simply attacking fraudulent lines of thoughts with clear thinking. nikki, do you expect me to start a revolution? Because that's usually what people have in mind when they ask haughtily "SOOOO WHAT YA GONNA DO ABOUT IT" with spittle flying out of their mouths.

Sadly, most "Indians" will make big talk about the greatness of non-violence and actually believe that non-violence works. The thinking of the people is only superficial; mention anything deep and they ignore it with a howl. Non-violence is the only way for those with no other options; it is not an independent tool all by itself as it is believed to be.

Ethenal wrote on Sat, 16 August 2014 23:52did you not click my link? the police just deployed tear gas again

The events at Ferguson got pretty brutal, the only way anyone could know what happened is by watching the live feeds that were available, as the media coverage was limited... to say the least. But even those were few and far between after the media blackout at 12 am (forgot the exact date/day). I actually still have some recorded portions currently.
After the media blackout and after the events of that day, tear gas canisters, smoke grenade canisters, rubber bullets, bean bags, and live shells were found at the scene.
Some even claim private contractors where hired, but i have yet to find anything trust-able with that information.

OT: Anyone who honestly thinks that getting rid of guns would solve our problems, just look at the "war on drugs," or the "war on terror." You could also look through the history of different totalitarian states, which usually disarmed the populace before committing mass murder. Seeing as history repeats itself, there is reason to believe the US is and has been falling into a similar situation. Militarization of the police force, Excessively corrupt politicians, an ever increasing amount of police brutality, and the sheer size of the US government today are just a few major examples of red flags....

In nikki, we have SUCH a dishonest individual that whines about "holding grand debates" then quips about the "corprotocracy;" his only intention is to somehow come out on top in this discussion. Why else would he dismiss us off as Libertatrians and act smart? Who do you think I was talking about when I mentioned "elites." Government? Nope.

I am just an immigrant talking about things as I see them in this country of most magnificent deceptions and illusions. I didn't ask to be called a Libertarian. I was branded in just a space of a few posts. Whose problem is that? YOURS and YOURS alone. That's the problem with people having false ideologies like nikki is they see someone sticking up for the small guy and instantly feel threatened by our rugged individualism. Then they jump the gun and brand us. The real loser is us all, you included. Why? We are not going to agree on anything.

You are not interested in bridging the gap between and from the very start see everything from a Left VS Right perspective. By falling for the trick of branding opponents, we are kept fighting indefinitely and you come out and make big talk about "playing into the hands of the corprotocracy."

You don't even have the basic honesty to read what I have been saying all along and acknowledge as fact what is common sense. Then you jump to corporatocracy.

You do know that the corporatocracy...the elites...their colossal monopolies are government-backed right? That government has been usurped and choke full of their agents and traitors and now acts as mere yes-men and watchdogs over the people? That this is the reason, and THE ONLY REASON why we have the slide towards militarized police? To cover the asses of the usurpers? That it is vital that the peoples, whatever protection that they have left, be strengthened and not eroded? That towards this regard, I have already explained the relationship between ownership of weapons and the balance of power? KEEP DODGING THIS POINT, NIKKI.

I am frankly tired of your cocky spewing of poisonous false ideologies because it's people like yourself that perpetuate this paradigm. And I am having none of it.

By the way, how are we supposed to deal with lies? You say I am doing nothing. I am spreading the word around and letting people know the nature of the beast. Not just here but in my community IRL. It's a small thing to do against a big beast. What have you been doing, nikki? For years now, repeating the same bs here and on Jelly, throwing people off with that attitude, picking up forum cool points. And you have the nerve to accuse me of "vidya gaming and holding grand debates."

Gun grabber simpletons are going to do a lot better at reading and understanding the depths of the issues they pretend to know so much about. How about the war on the family unit? Under the mask of "free speech" every sort of indecency is perpetrated leading to destroyed individuals with the inability to keep a family together for more than 3 years and leading to broken homes. The children of these families have wretched lives that almost always end up as depressed drugged up psychos that end up in mass shootings.

Yes, let's still go for the law-abiding citizens' guns. That will solve all our problems! That's what the elites exactly want and you fools are pawns to fall for it and demand everyone disarm.

We could make a law that states "If someone breaks into your house just let them take everything." And to encourage less violence we could not post charges unless they actually hurt someone. Thus freeing up police time and reducing violence.

LOL! Yeah good job there. All you're doing is writing essays that are littered with strawmen, insults and aren't terribly thought provoking. I've read it all before.

What have you been doing, nikki?

I actively assist the poor and needy, volunteering considerable amounts of my time and expertise ensuring people have fair access to legal, law-enforcement and political resources. I also sit on several non-profit boards that help vulnerable populations.

You know... the people who actually can make a difference in our society but whom your ideology deems to be 'lazy,' 'sheeple,' 'masses' who you consider to be too busy:

- watching porn
- watching reality TV
- playing video games
- not educating themselves

...and other male-centric libertarian fallacies you and others like you spew.

While you were cozily writing your responses in the comfort of your warm home, I was out in the rain handing out blankets and food to the same poor souls I see every week. They will never have a chance of finding a home, job or even a semblance of a 'life' because people who share your ideology that government is an inherently evil, corrupt, elitist nightmare, are busy ruining social safety nets.

You care only about your freedom and the freedom of privileged people like you.

Maybe start caring about those who wish they even had freedoms left to defend.

TL;DR: Check your male privilege and actually do something to help people who are disadvantaged.

Dodging just about everything and lots of goal-post moving. Obviously, these things are too difficult for you.

Keep handing out the blankets and patting yourself in the back for what a fine job you are doing while not knowing what put people out in the streets in the first place.

Well done. I like the part where you are covering for the porn and reality TV addicts.

I especially love this gem:

edit:

You have a swollen subverted government over a leviathan welfare state with lots of people in need of blankets all ruled by a power elite that prefer to stay invisible, crash the stockmarket at will and cause wars.

And if you are not a perfect cog like nikki accepting this joke and obediently handing out blankets, you are a male chauvinist that is egoistically exercising "male privilege."

Keep up with the branding. Above all, keep up with blaming the wrong people.

And that's all he got. Branding, dodging, goal-post moving, and finally comparing me to a sex-starved mass-shooter. A perfect cog reveals the full height of his intelligence; that's for any thinking person to see though.

You could help them even more if you didn't waste time arguing with Starbuzz. But as a heads up you'll probably never accomplish everything, see my next quote why.

You should let them hand out the blankets, beings "They will never have a chance of finding a home, job or even a semblance of a 'life'" and in exchange you can build them some sort of housing for helping others, that'd actually be doing something; or do you believe that they are unable to do tasks as simple as handing out blankets? Or maybe its that they won't hand out the blankets and it hurts you to know the people that are poor and in the rain don't even want to help others in their situation?

AK, my taxation is used for a lot more than just muh roads and utilities. For example, the needless surveillance of an individual. The resources needed to build such a pervasive system is from the people's money. That's abuse don't you think? And that's just one "benefit" of taxation we both enjoy everyday:

Quote:"The technotronic era involves the gradual appearance of a more controlled society. Such a society would be dominated by an elite, unrestrained by traditional values. Soon it will be possible to assert almost continuous surveillance over every citizen and maintain up-to-date complete files containing even the most personal information about the citizen. These files will be subject to instantaneous retrieval by the authorities."

He is against it because his eyes are stuffed with roses.

This conversation is going on because he is unwilling to acknowledge the absolute fact that political power is based on the possession of weapons systems. I have him maneuvered between a rock and a hard place because if he were to acknowledge that fundamental truth (he won't because he is dishonest), it will mean revising his opinion of gun ownership and the collapse of his unrealistic rose-colored utopian fantasies.

We are holding the win by default till we are challenged and refuted effectively.

Let me also remind everyone that we are only having this argument because someone really got their feelings hurt at my post which followed Hitman's short YouTube video link in the previous page.

Meanwhile, I am getting mocked and compared to a dumbass mass-shooter dickhead. Fucking pathetic but I am laughing IRL now. lol.

That is a pointless point because at some point that shooter was told that killing people is wrong and he did it anyways, so I doubt being told he shouldn't have a gun will make a difference; if some nut has all the free time in the world and wants to do something, they'll find a way.
