Somebody better be gaurding that parking lot. Otherwise you could end up with an apc rush turning into a batch of enemy tanks comming to life in your base. That could be trouble. Also don't even try that as gDI on a non gaurd tower map. Stealths could just walk up and get in LOL. If you have the man power go for it but, make sure you protect the steals. You could try taking them down to real low armor and proxie charging them, but then your taking away c4 from some place where it is needed.
