I always thought it was amusing how in most forums/chats/etc people can use words like "hax0r" "n00b" and other just plain typos like "loose" instead of "lose"...and all of this is accepted because everyone knows that we are all typing this stuff at 100wpm while we are listening to the radio and watching tv and who knows what else...yet sometimes some people will fixate on certain words and become the grammar police   [April 23, 2002: Message edited by: Blazer]
