When you are against a guy in a vehicle, and you are just an infantry... No one else is around, its just a 1 on 1 battle in the middle of an open space. Pound him with whatever weapon you have until he is almost dead. Hide. Hide behind anything... a rock, a wall, a cardboard box... just make sure he cant see you. Most of the time(if he is an engineer, which i find to be common for some odd reason...) he will usually get out to repair his vehicle (i dont know if this is normal, or if i just play against idiots..)When his vehicle is nearly up to full strength, simply jump from your hiding spot, hop in and run him down.
