Titan1x77Who gives a shit about what he thinks.

Exdeath is exactly right, ACK is only giving his opinion and he's only ONE person.

Several people like the way that Reborn is going, I for one have seen a great deal of improvment upon a mod which started with a great concept but, didnt have the quality work put into it from the start.

Now that the mod is improving greatly,theres going to be some jealous type opinions from others that are pouring the same hardwork into a diff mod (renalert).

So you see....Enough with carrying on flamewars, just read his input and keep working hard and be proud of what you produce.

If I remember correctly, RenAlert is not a mod. Also, you can't say that they are jealous. They could be jealous, but I personally believe that they aren't jealous.
