Ah I was just about to post a new topic but seen as we are on the theme of your irc I woulkd like to ask this:

At sholl I can not connect to any mirc channel via mirc I get a "unable to connect to server" error (I think will check specfic error name when back at school moday)...

I can connect via the IE applet though so this leads me to the question is there a way to connect with mirc I presume a certain port is needed for the program that te applet doesn't require...

Please could some one help me get it running...

Ah ur server works fine for me Crimson.
