Client side is in C? just C, not VC++/MFC. i thought that C is just like a command prompt type of languge and has no complex vissual component unless you use like a shit load of (line, circle, oval, rectangle, setcolor, setfillstyle, floodfill...) commands. Did C change in the past 6 yeas sence I used it last? What C commands let's you bring up a wabpage, make buttons and use the mouse?
