We everybody (at least the most people) already know about Petroglyph, and although there are a lot of rumors in the world, it's 99% sure there next game will be a RTS and it will not be a C&C.

I warn you there is a big chance you will get flamed, or ridiculed, since these kind of post appear once in a month, or less. And sometimes people just like to make fun of these since they just feel like it.
