Massive load on my server . . . I don't like this My server is at my house, and I'm uploading like crazy, 10 minutes after I put the file on, at about 12:00 something this morning, if this gets through I'm lucky, been trying the past few hours off and on. . . Umm . . . just to let anyone know that's downloading off my server, if you could please just go to <http://egames.servegame.com> and click the Google text ads at the bottom that would be a great help. THX, Hope everyone enjoys .993, I haven't been able to play it yet because of my server. I need to play LAN with my bro, but that's kinda boring with only 2 people, I did a 1 player game and looked at everything but the naval units and light tank. . . Well, cya sometime later in a few days on RenAlert (after my server is done with this massive load right now) I hope.
