Oh this should be fun!

I'll schedule myself to be killed by this disaster. Of course, it's going to have to wait in line behind the Yellowstone super-volcano, a giant asteroid, global nuclear war, a massive earthquake, the next ice age, global warming, an alien invasion, some rare terminal disease, a swarm of killer bees, fire ants, the next great depression, an angry mob, psychotic taxi drivers, and my homicidal cat. :rolleyes:

I believe the message there is somewhere along the lines of:

You can't stop it, your government can't stop it, the end of the world couldn't stop it, so stop worrying and live your fucking life.
