First : I did that ONLY because it was the start of the game, and in hourglass, the start of the game is boring.

Second : Anybody can do it. You only need to show it to someone who does not know abotu that, you give the explications on how to do it, and he just got to practice until hes friggin fast.

Three : I'll tell brian about this topic. He din't send me any E-mail or anything yet, but he will one day.
