cowmisfitFACT: half of canadian teens think America is the devil.

I can only speak for the teens that I work with at the base downtown, but most of them don't think America is evil. They think the man in charge is a crook, and they're right. But that is as far as it goes.

Quote:FACT: Canada will not allow fox news into canada because there afraid there people will see the truth.

Ok, this is a blantant lie. "I" get FOXnews. And it spews out just about as much truth as CNN.

Quote:FACT: Because of these two FACTS aprimes view of the world and our polotics is probably extreamly twisted.

Considering both are not true, does that mean that his "politics" are now extremely correct?

Quote:FACT: You must see both sides of news , left wing and right wing to really know how the world works and understand whats going on. Canadians have one

I suggest you throw an unbiased 3rd party into that mix. If you only listen to right-wing media, or you only listen to left-wing media, you will definatly have a bias against the other. You'll question the content of the other and unequivocally believe everything that "your" media front puts out. A 3rd party source won't lie or construe information for either side.
