Subject: PT Hack Needs Fixing Server Side Preferred
Posted by Aircraftkiller on Mon, 23 Aug 2004 06:24:27 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Maybe it's you who doesn't get the point, I never once said I didn't realize that I ruined the game for others when I do that. Maybe it didn't dawn on you that when it concerns people who piss me off, I DON'T CARE... Why? They can go somewhere else, it's simply a game that allows you to choose different servers. Big fucking deal.

Did I say I was different? Uh, no... Red herring! Now you're trying to set the conversation into something that justifies your contradictive posts.

Seeing as how you're acting like an asshole, as usual, I can't blame a lot of people for what they do to your server. You really do seem to invite it upon yourself. If you weren't so quick to but in on things that have little to do with you, I doubt you'd have many enemies at all. I should know because if I didn't attack people for doing things I dislike, I wouldn't have as many idiots hounding me for every post I make. Yet that's a consequence of my actions that I choose to live with.

If you accuse people of cheating, then find every possible way to get under their skin and then find out that they're going to attack you or your server for your own actions... All I can say is boo hoo, asshole... If you did that sort of thing in reality, are you going to tell that guy punching you in the face that he's ruining your bodily health because of a conscious decision you made to pester the hell out of him?

I've had enough of arguing with you, it never leads to anything productive. I'm sure your next post will be like the rest of them, you're just a victim, you never do anything wrong... It's always people attacking you because you're such a nice guy... My ass...