What I really want to see is someone who is willing to help others trying to learn to mod and is there to answer there questions when they are asked.

YSLMuffinsAll in all, I have nothing to gain from acquiring moderatorship--I just want to see this place for what it should be: a place to help others in modifying our title game--not a hostile, alienating environment.

All in all the same thing. My vote goes to YSLmuffins now.
