tarsonis9l seem to be the only percussionist, oh sorry, drummer in this place.

Oh, right, Yamaha DXTREME IIS electric set. My local communist laws prohibit me from using an acoustic set (the kind you picture when you think of a drum set) because they're loud as fuck. Hence, the electric set, silent, unless, of course, I hook it up to a few guitar amps.

Sorry folks, no picture.

I'm not a drummer, but I know what a electric drum set is. Is there a difference between an acoustic one and a electric one? I mean, the way you play it. on a electric drumset you're just smashing on plastic.
