How did I spend twelve hours on it? I don't know, but if that's some sort of knock at how long it takes me to do things, just remember that your "MetalWrench" Ranger looks like garbage and has little artistic value or relevance to any real vehicle.

I made sure every detail came out properly with the Longbow and that is why it took so long. Perhaps instead of asking me why it took twelve hours, ask yourself why your own work looks like ass when it only takes you 30-40 minutes?
