If he enjoys modding in what little free time he has, then why not. You, I, nor anyone else and any right to say differently. I have barely any free time, yet I like to mod in my spare time, that is why I work on several mods and have my own very very very slow mod. Ok, you can call my mod a joke, I wont hold that against you. But I have me reasons for it.

Once again sorry if people think I over reacted. But trust me, if I became as good as friends with New Hope as I did with KGB,I would gladly defend you guys when someone talk down on your work.
