I love these debates.

In the first Presidential debate, Kerry mentioned that the United States should first pass a "world test" in order to go to war with another country. Now tonight, on the Vice Presidential debates, Edwards completely denied that statement and said that Kerry said nothing like that.

It's bad enough that Kerry is such a bad flip-flopper, but now Edwards isn't even on the same level as Kerry. it's so funny to see Liberals in action.
