usa have no pensions , not any programs (unimportant what actually they do) for unemployed people and all that things ? not a little bit? (i dont know 100% because i dont life there) but if there is somthing like that: usa must be "based" on a welfare program according to ack's preferred line of argumentation.

i not deny that germany is one but this doesnt mean "Socialism\Communism reigns supreme" here. they only raise the standards for everyone. (raise the lower bound, but dont make everyone equal)
