AircraftkillerYou mean like your replies?

I attack you because you give a little advice, then you are right back to your old self. I personally tried to not post anything against you, but it's always the same BS. I could look back in many Reborn started topics and mostly see in your posts "concrete" and "plastic". Atleast you got rid of the habit of using "hypocrite" in every post making the forum more of a dictionary rather than a public modding show/help forum. I'm sure many would agree because all of what I just said is all true...
