And why do you consider Mozilla and Firefox to be so bad?
I have been using mozilla since 0.9x and I have found the features (popup blocking, flash animation blocking, ad-blocks, SPAM filtering, faster fixing of security holes, in-built IRC client and so on) to be GREAT.

Plus, Mozilla, Firefox and the email client Thunderbird (iunlike Internet Explorer and Outlook Express) wont allow web-pages and emails to install stuff (viruses, spyware etc) behind your back.

And it has handled every site I have used it with (with a couple small exceptions, one of which is the Microsoft Platform SDK download site) including my bank.
