flyingfoxif there's one thing I can't stand it's people who completely ignore you when you tell them not to attack the harvester, and keep on attacking it.
It's not hard to turn that argument on its head.

It's also annoying to get some idiot intent on harv walking which you already know he won't succeed in, when instead he could use his C4 to finish off the harvy since you're only an engi at the time...
