Dear EA,

I played Command & Conquer Renegade Online for a long time now, there seems to be a problem with Westwood online, you cant connect to any game servers. This problem was happening for two days now. A number of people have the same problem, almost no-one can connect to a game server.

I hope you fix this issue soon

Yours truly,
Mike C.

Yes! Richard A. is the MAN... I couldn't get a hold of him.

Quote:Hello,

Thank you for contacting us here at Electronic Arts Technical Support,

We have recently been having some connection issues with Westwood Online Servers. You may get intermittent connection to online servers while it is undergoing regular maintenance checks. Unfortunately, we can only advise you to please try again later.

Alternatively, you can try to create an account under gamespyarcade.com to try and play this game on a third-party online server.
