Kytten9I dont think any character or vehicle is usless (apart from the transport chopper - that i agree on) omg kytten09!!! what ever happened to that sniper yourney you had planned?

the transport chopper should have been allowed to carry up to ten people so that, when there were too many n00bs playing you could drive a pack of them to the middle of c&c city fly and call it shooting practise. have any of you actually killed a soldier falling from a transport chopper? it's best when you catch them in mid air with your apache and do the 'cut em up' with the blades. boink!
