cowmisfitAprimeCowmisfit, that doesn't make any damn bit of sense.

The only reason why Firefox is better is because it's LESS powerful than Internet Explorer.

But yeah, Internet Explorer and anything ressembling it sucks.

Explain to me how firefox is weaker than IE?

Firefox has the capability to add on hundreds of different plugins, themes and other extensions such as the google site preview, allows you to surf multiple sites at a time with out taking up more windows in your start bar (it makes the little tabs in one window, thats my favorite feature) Its easier to find what your looking for in Options, Its way way way more custumizable and in my mind more secure. I have not got a single pop-up add since i've been using firefox.

Too much power = too much liberty = too much access.

Get it?

Stuff like ActiveX makes IE a very powerful tool, but it's too powerful.
