Buying an Xbox was probally one of the biggest purchasing mistakes I have ever made. I really only bought it for Halo 2. It was fun for about a three weeks. I have five games for it, and only have beaten Halo. I have not touched the thing since mid-January and I really have no plan to. I kinda want to sell it on ebay, but there are too many for sale already.