so quick to down any character you never use....I have helped my arts take out meds with a flamer...you just have to be able to sneak in close...they attack the meds and I get free fire cuz yall think the flamer aint gonna hurt your meds.....its the guy behind the flamer, and the tactics involved....the transport isnt useless either..its timing....hang back until your troops rush, then bring in the trans with a load of hotwires... again, sneak in while others are attacking...use some sense....these are not in your face attackers...they are subtle, and you have to use STRATEGY....nothing is useless...everything just has its time and place....
