You're only bitching about xfire because you can. Are you paying for their servers? I didn't think so, so shut the fuck up. If they want to offer a service for gamers then let them. They and their users (ie. me) don't want to hear you bitch because you're too stubborn to use the service that they provide. It's not my problem you're an idiot, but I guess what they say is true, "ignorance is bliss."
