Ok you have a point with the change part, now it is more possible since there is almost no support from EA. As for the guys shooting basic inf in the legs, it will still happen if the clip size is changed, unless damage is done too. As for the braggers they can always be challenged for a 1v1 to show them that they truly do suck when they see their enemy doesn't die when they are shot in the leg. As for me I don't really snipe and when I do I use the $500 one, so changes won't affect me as much as others. I do agree that the points vs vehicals should be lowered, but those ppl are just sad.

A poll should be held on all this or is there one?
