What he means to say is ignore it. Just restart and it should go away, it happens to everyone.
You aren't doing anyhting wrong.

Is anyone else starting to get annoyed with the way people are getting treated when they ask for help. People posting things like this are just annoying people. If you don't have anything helpful to say, don't say anything. All you do is give BHS and Renguard a bad name with comments like that. the funny thing is giving him the correct answer is just as fast as saying something stupid like search for it.
