Subject: <06/21/04> Problems connecting to RenGuard?

mac is moving this weekend so all I can do is continually restart the two master servers that are being wonky. The "latest Release" of the RenGuard client was 1.03 which was released several months ago. The client software has no affect on the current problems. Other versions of the Renguard client aren't going to do any good because only the current version is allowed to connect to the network.
