I re-installed Renegade from scratch and re-located map files I had, but it still didn't work. Now it won't even let me download CP1 again now. Gives me some test8 error message.

I don't get it, I've used Renguard with minimal problems, then this crap shows up.

The ONLY change i can think of that dealt with my internet would be that we got rid of our VoIP phone service through Lingo......other than that, nothing else has changed to my knowledge. That's just pulling a couple cables and make sure everything is connected.

Hopefully you guys can come up with something
