I could use this controller as boomerang. You could try to hunt some prey with that. And dont worry, you can also grill food inside PS3.

I must say, this is a great multi-function machine.

The handle is just longer, dumbass, unless you need to wrap your hands around the bottom as well as the sides of the controller you should stop your damn worrying.

I believe that the PS3 is probably better, but who knows, maybe Mircrosoft can delay their release to make the Xbox 360 better.
