Crimson wrote on Tue, 07 June 2005 13:34I don't, but I'm pretty sure I can disable his private messages. (which I'm going to do right now)

I also removed the instructions as to how to get the passwords from him. Any further offers from him, or re-adding what I removed, will result in a ban. First and only warning.

Thank you Crimson, I would bealive that I was right that things were geting more harder around here. I also know that the mods' are not "immature kids" either like was said. Personal information is JUST WHAT IT SAYS! Now how would you like your info posted all over the net? I did not think so.
