I think the accuser was just a money-hungry bitch, same as that stupid whore that tried to convince everyone she found a finger in her chili at Wendy's. Jacko is DEFINITELY weird, and he does seem to be fond of young boys, but from my experience with child molesters, they are almost always ashamed of their feelings and WANT to be stopped, and often confess readily.

I don't know... I just think there's reasonable doubt, and when that exists, you can't find them guilty.
