You are a Noob, if you are playing a CTF match and you're entire team, including you, decide its a time to cyber.

My clan mate caught 4 people doing this, I swear to god. He was on Sidewinder, and they were in they're base, on top of each other and crouched down. He kept running into their base with a Sniper Rifle and shooting the only female on their team in the head, and then everyone else. What worse, is the fact that one of them was in a clan that I think we are at war with.
. . . I'm sorry, but that's just altogether unacceptably wrong. There are plenty of other places where people can do that crap.(Might I suggest Second Life or Furcadia?)
It would be somewhat ok if you did it while the base was inactive, and you were defending, but not like they were.
