the sad thing is that some really cant use RG ... in the past i doubt that, i thought those people were just to lazy or to stupid to install rg ... but since i had such bad problems with rg i know it happens, and i know that some people really cant use rg.

maybe bhs should think about new default settings for the next version.
default settings which allow users to donate to others, or defaults which set the popup to only appear at the start of a map or just once after you joined the server.
