Don't try to go to EA about it bc they are having problems such as when i put in my name and pass it says that it doesn't exist then you go to make a new one and you get invaild URL but you have to sign in to ask a question. I have tried to direct e-mail them and i got that you need to do it through the web and i explained that i couldn't so they were like well here's some URL's that could help but none of them did. So for WOL as of right now it seems dead.

The best thing for you to do is download XWIS and then connect to WOL, or even use another browser like GSA (GaySpy)
