A friend of mine has a problem. He used to have a 32 MB RAM vid card which was pretty crappy .
He now updated his whole computer to this:

P4. 2.4 ghz
768 memory
128 MB GFX card, GeForce FX 5600 (now updated to Geforce FX 5700 256 MB gfx card but still same problem)
+ A new motherbord

Battlefield 2 runs great on high details. Renegade still gives him around 30 FPS =/ on low details.
He sees no real difference between his old card and this new. He already tried reinstalling
Renegade once again.

Would he need to change registry settings or something before reinstalling?
