The backend network is getting a complete rewrite as well. We KNOW that RenGuard is pretty shitty the last month or two.

Once our RG2 backend and RenGuard 1.04 are out, your confidence will come back. I assure you.

I know that 1.04 is a complete re-write, and I have more confidence in it than in 1.03. If 1.04 performs i'll happily stop putting RG down and use it.

A lot of servers believe it is.

Crimson wrote on Sat, 31 December 2005 16:24On my server, we use RenGuard as the first check. After that, we use all the logging available to us to make a determination. Screen shots are 100% worthless and pointless and anyone who relies on them is a fool.

Besides RG, screenshots, tests and good moderators are all we have.
