Everything looks super awesome. It may only be a small part of the structure, but the purchase terminals look amazing. I really love them, I thought the same when I saw the Hand of Nod ones in a previous display on the forums.

And they are something that are in constant use too.

The only thing that I would improve if I could, would be the tiberium slurry that I can see in the last picture. The smoke looks good, but the actualy tiberium itself looks like the same stuff in renegade.

But seriously, the refinery owns
